Office of Aging,1964 Handbook of Self-Compassion Amy Finlay-Jones,Karen Bluth,Kristin Neff,2023-03-23 This handbook examines contemporary issues in self compassion science and practice It describes advances in the conceptualization and measurement of self compassion as well as current evidence from cross sectional and experimental research The volume addresses the foundational issues of self compassion including its relationship to self esteem and mindfulness In addition it considers the developmental origins of self compassion and its relevance across the life course including among adolescents and older adults The handbook explores the role of self compassion in promoting well being and resilience and addresses new frontiers in self compassion research such as the neural underpinnings and psychophysiology of compassionate self regulation Key areas of coverage include The meaning of self compassion for gender and sexuality minority groups The cultivation of self compassion among young people The use of interventions to promote self compassion The role of compassion based interventions in clinical contexts Important insights for using self compassion based interventions in practice The Handbook of Self Compassion is a must have resource for researchers professors and graduate students as well as clinicians therapists and other practitioners in psychology complementary and alternative medicine and social work as well as all interrelated research disciplines and clinical practices

Government's Response to the Elderly United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Aging,1976

Gerontechnology Jan A. M. Graafmans,Vappu Taipale,Neil Charness,1998 This publication is concerned with gerontechnology the study of technology and ageing with the aim of improving the functioning of older people in daily life The first part of the book is a compilation of the key note addresses describing the background for and the conditions under which the emerging field of gerontechnology can be developed further The chapters deal with political socio economic ethical demographic issues related to gerontechnology Furthermore methodological approaches in human factors ergonomics and industrial design are described Trends in technological developments and innovations conclude the first volume The second part presents some 80 case studies divided over 9 sections 1 perception and cognition 2 communication technology 3 mobility and transport 4 health and home care technology 5 housing 6 training and education 7 safety and security 8 product design and 9 culture and attitudes Positive Aging and Precarity Irina Catrinel Crăciun,2019-05-10 This book explores positive aging through the lens of precarity aiming to ground positive aging theories in current social contexts In recent years research on aging has been branded by growing disagreements between supporters of the successful aging model and critical gerontologists who highlight the widening inequalities disadvantages and precarity that characterize old age This book comes to fill a gap in knowledge by offering an alternative view on positive aging informed by precarity and its impact on projections concerning aging The first part of the book places aging in broader theoretical and empirical context exploring the complex links between views on aging successful aging theories policy and social reality The second part uses results from a qualitative research conducted in Germany to illustrate the dissonance between successful aging ideals and both negative and positive views on aging as well as aging preparation strategies inspired by precarity Findings from this section provide a solid starting point for comparisons with countries that are both similar and different from Germany in terms of welfare regimes and aging policies The final part of the book discusses the psychological implications of these findings within and beyond the German case study and outlines potential solutions for practice This book provides health psychologists gerontologists sociologists social workers health professionals as well as students and aging individuals themselves with better understanding of the meaning of aging in precarious times and builds confidence about aging well despite precarity

Family Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet Connidis, Amanda E. Barnett, 2018-10-05 Providing an integrated and thorough representation from current research and contemporary society Family Ties and Aging shows how pressing issues of our time an aging population changing family structures and new patterns of work family balance are negotiated in the family lives of middle aged and older adults Focusing on key questions such as How do current trends and social arrangements affect family relationships and What are the implications of what we know for future research theory practice and policy authors Ingrid Arnet Connidis and Amanda E Barnett explore groups and relationships that are typically overlooked including the unique family situations of older single and childless persons sibling ties older lesbian and gay adults and new forms of intimate relationships The Third Edition is thoroughly updated to include the latest research and theoretical developments recent media coverage of related issues and new information on intimate relationships in later life and elder neglect abuse

Encounters With Aging Margaret M. Lock, 1993 A powerful intervention into one of the most important debates of our time Meticulous in her methods and wise in her insight Lock tames a sea of stormy argument to show how complex and consequential is the interplay of culture and biology Her book will make great strides toward her ultimate goal to dislodge the myth of the Menopausal Woman Jean Comaroff University of Chicago
