Agencies In Foreign Aid Comparing China Sweden And The United States In Tanzania:

Agencies in Foreign Aid Goran Hyden, Rwekaza Mukandala, 1999-06-03 In contrast to the bulk of the literature on foreign aid which deals with it as an instrument of foreign policy or focuses on problems of implementation this book examines the role of the aid agencies themselves from a recipient's perspective and provides longitudinal as well as comparative analysis The principal aid agencies of China Sweden and the United States began their operations in Tanzania simultaneously in the early 1960s but from very different ideological premises Nonetheless they all fell into operational traps that have limited the effectiveness of their contributions to Tanzanian development The editors draw lessons about how foreign aid if it is going to continue needs to be reformed at the agency level China's Foreign Aid Hong Zhou, Hou Xiong, 2017-03-07 This book analyzes the changes in and development of China's Foreign Aid Policy and Mechanisms over the past 60 years It offers readers a thorough introduction to China's Aid to Africa its Aid to Southeast Asian Countries its Aid Policy Toward Central Asian Countries and its Aid to Latin America and the Caribbean Region as well as their respective influence Combining field research and surveys at the grass roots level the book argues that China's foreign aid policy is intended to help other countries and has changed the strategic pattern of Western countries imposing blockades on New China and has thus played a key role in expanding and strengthening China's economic and political ties with many developing countries restoring its legitimate seat in the United Nations and promoting the cause of cooperation with regard to international development Focusing on concrete examples rather than abstruse theories the book further argues that foreign aid requires practical policies suitable expertise and technologies at the same time international development a field largely overlooked by scholars of international relations can offer profound principles to shape international relations and foreign aid "Angels of God"? Andrea Azizi Kifyasi, 2025-12-01 This book drawing heavily on archival and oral sources many of which have not been accessible before discusses major Chinese funded projects in Tanzania's health sector It explores the contexts that gave birth to China's medical assistance in Tanzania and analyses how the funded projects contributed to the nation building agenda and promoted South South medical knowledge production exchanges and self sufficiency within the country By examining entanglements in bilateral relationships among countries of the Global South the book contributes to research on South South cooperation China Rising Yong Deng, Fei-Ling Wang, 2005 Despite its increasingly secure place in the world the People's Republic of China remains dissatisfied with its global status Its growing material power has simultaneously led to both greater influence and unsettling questions about its international intentions China also has found itself in a constant struggle to balance its aspirations abroad with a daunting domestic agenda This authoritative book provides a unique exploration of the complex and dynamic motivations behind Beijing's foreign policy The authors focus on China's choices and calculations on issues such as the ruling Communist party regime's interests international status and image nationalism Taiwan human rights globalization U S hegemony international institutions and the war on terrorism Taken together the chapters offer a comprehensive diagnosis of the emerging paradigms in Chinese foreign policy illuminating especially China's struggle to engineer and manage its rise in light of the opportunities and perils inherent in the post cold war and post 9 11 world

The Dragon's Gift Deborah Brautigam, 2011-04-07 Is China a rogue donor as some media pundits suggest Or is China helping the developing world pave a pathway out of poverty as the Chinese claim In the last few years China's aid program has leapt out of the shadows Media reports about huge aid packages support for pariah regimes regiments of Chinese labor and the ruthless exploitation of workers and natural resources in some of the poorest countries in the world sparked fierce debates These debates however took place with very few hard facts China's tradition of secrecy about its aid fueled rumors and speculation making it difficult to gauge the risks and opportunities provided by China's growing embrace This well timed book by one of the world's leading experts provides the first comprehensive account of China's aid and economic cooperation overseas Deborah Brautigam tackles the myths and realities explaining what the Chinese are doing how they do it how much aid they give and how it all fits into their going global strategy Drawing on three decades of experience in China and Africa and hundreds of interviews in Africa China Europe and the US Brautigam shines new light on a topic of great interest China has ended poverty for hundreds of millions of its own citizens Will Chinese engagement benefit Africa Using hard data and a series of vivid stories ranging across agriculture industry natural resources and governance Brautigam's fascinating book provides an answer It is essential reading for anyone concerned with China's rise and what it might mean for the challenge of ending poverty in Africa

Africa-China-Taiwan Relations, 1949-2020 Sabella Ogbobode Abidde, 2022-07-26 The ongoing tension and hostility between China and Taiwan in Africa are a continuation of the Chinese Civil War 1927-1949 between the forces of the Chinese Communist Party CCP which remained in mainland China and the Kuomintang KMT of the Republic of China ROC which fled to the island of Taiwan In the intervening years China has claimed Taiwan as part of its territory and through persistent and aggressive political and economic efforts convinced much of the world to accept her as the sole and legitimate seat of the Chinese people and government Africa China Taiwan Relations 1949-2020 provides a coherent account of why and how China was able to convince African governments to acquiesce to her claims which have resulted in the expulsion of and the diplomatic isolation of Taiwan on the African continent This volume edited by Sabella Ogbobode Abidde also explains Taiwan's unsuccessful efforts at blunting China's maneuvers It further discusses the endogenous and exogenous factors that swayed African governments to switch their diplomatic allegiance away from Taiwan a country that was for many years an ally and dependable partner in their quest for growth and development Finally the book contains critical assessments of the role and place of China and Taiwan and their current relationship with states and societies on the African continent

Development Cooperation and Emerging Powers Sachin Chaturvedi, Thomas Fues, Elizabeth Sidiropoulos, 2012-05-10 The current framework of development cooperation is dominated by the experiences of industrialized countries But emerging economies have begun to accelerate their own development programmes and attempts to bring them into existing aid models have been met with caution and reservation This expert topical volume explores the development policies of Brazil China India Mexico and South Africa analysing how South South cooperation has evolved and where it differs from traditional development cooperation This vital new collection brings together first hand experience from these countries to provide a forward looking analysis of the current global architecture of development cooperation and of the possible convergence of traditional and emerging development actors

Transformation of Foreign Affairs and International Relations in China, 1978-2008

Yizhou Wang, 2011-01-07 Transformation of Foreign Affairs and International Relations in China 1978 2008 is translated from the original Chinese to provide a look into how scholars in China have been assessing the transition of China's diplomacy and foreign relations This volume and the others in the SSRC series provide western scholars with an accessible English language look at the state of current scholarship in China and as such does not simply provide information for the direct study of socio political issues but also for meta level analysis of how the domestic scholarship in China is developing and assessing the interplay of the country's political and economic reforms with the society and daily life of its people

Global Land Grabs Marc Edelman, Carlos Oya, Saturnino M. Borrás Jr., 2016-03-22 Since the 2008 world food crisis a surge of land grabbing swept Africa Asia and Latin America and even some regions of Europe and North America Investors have uprooted rural communities for massive agricultural biofuels mining industrial and urbanisation projects Water grabbing and green grabbing have further exacerbated social tensions Early analyses of land grabbing focused on foreign actors the biofuels boom and Africa and pointed to catastrophic consequences for the rural poor Subsequently scholars carried out local case studies in diverse world regions The contributors to this volume advance the discussion to a new stage critically scrutinizing alarmist claims of the first wave of research probing the historical antecedents of today's land grabbing examining large scale land acquisitions in light of international human rights and investment law and considering anew longstanding questions in agrarian political economy about forms of dispossession and accumulation and grassroots resistance Readers of this collection will learn about the impacts of land and water grabbing the relevance of key theorists including Marx Polanyi and Harvey the realities of China's involvement in Africa how contemporary land grabbing differs from earlier plantation agriculture and how social movements and rural people in general are responding to this new threat This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly

Chinese Politics and International Relations Nicola Horsburgh, Astrid

Nordin, Shaun Breslin, 2014-01-03 The question of how China will relate to a globalising world is one of the key issues in contemporary international relations and scholarship on China yet the angle of innovation has not been properly addressed within the field This book explores innovation in China from an International Relations perspective in terms of four areas foreign and security policy international relations theory soft power image management and resistance Under the complex condition of globalisation innovation becomes a particularly useful analytical concept because it is well suited to capturing the hybridity of actors and processes under globalisation By adopting this theme studies not only reveal a China struggling to make the future through innovation but also call attention to how China itself is made in the process The book is divided into four sections Part 1 focuses on conceptual innovation in China's foreign and security policies since 1949 Part 2 explores theoretical innovation in terms of a potential Chinese school of International Relations Theory Part 3 expands on innovation in terms of image management a form of soft power in particular how China exports its image both to a domestic and foreign audience Part 4 highlights how innovation is used in China by grassroots popular groups to resist official narratives This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese studies Chinese foreign policy and international relations international relations theory and East Asian security
