Urquhart, 2020-09-01 A moving portrait of a father and daughter relationship and a case for late stage creativity from Emily Urquhart the bestselling author of Beyond the Pale Folklore Family and The Mystery of Our Hidden Genes The fundamental misunderstanding of our time is that we belong to one age group or another We all grow old There is no us and them There was only ever an us from The Age of Creativity It has long been thought that artistic output declines in old age When Emily Urquhart and her family celebrated the eightieth birthday of her father the illustrious painter Tony Urquhart she found it remarkable that although his pace had slowed he was continuing his daily art practice of drawing painting and constructing large scale sculptures and was even innovating his style Was he defying the odds or is it possible that some assumptions about the elderly are flat out wrong After all many well known visual artists completed their best work in the last decade of their lives Turner Monet and C zanne among them With the eye of a memoirist and the curiosity of a journalist Urquhart began an investigation into late stage creativity asking Is it possible that our best work is ahead of us Is there an expiry date on creativity Do we ever really know when we ve done anything for the last time The Age of Creativity is a graceful intimate blend of research on ageing and creativity including on progressive senior led organizations such as a home for elderly theatre performers and a gallery in New York City that only represents artists over sixty and her experiences living and travelling with her father Emily Urquhart reveals how creative work both amateur and professional sustains people in the third act of their lives and tells a new story about the possibilities of elder hood

Issues in Aging Mark Novak,2018-02-02 Issues in Aging combines social psychological biological and philosophical perspectives to present a multifaceted picture of aging Novak illustrates both the problems and the opportunities that accompany older age This text helps students understand the tremendous variability in aging and introduces them to careers working with older adults This new edition reflects the continued changes in the way we age The fourth edition has been updated to include emerging issues in aging These include the prevalence of HIV AIDs in later life current research on mental potential in old age the creation of age friendly cities and new options for end of life care Each chapter begins with a set of learning objectives to guide students in their reading and concludes with a list of main points questions for discussion or study suggested readings and relevant web sites to consult Each chapter also includes up to date charts and graphs as well as key terms to help students understand the issues presented Break out boxes reveal the human side of aging through the stories of individuals in real life and in the media

Creativity and Successful Aging Carolyn E. Adams-Price,1998 Creative expression in later life can be linked directly to successful aging Beginning with theoretical models of creativity and life span development the contributors examine the factors that influence creative exploration environmental social gender cognitive and personality New theories on creative productivity in late life are presented which suggest that the potential for creativity is present in many older adults Using longitudinal studies and qualitative interviews the contributors look at the role creativity plays in the lives of elders and the way that creativity aids in the adaptation to physical aspects of aging problem solving and life reminiscing A variety of viewpoints are presented from the perspectives of cognitive aging researchers creativity researchers and experts in a variety of creative domains This text is a useful addition to courses in hermeneutics and critical gerontology

Coming of Age in Films Mario Garrett,2019-02-14 The story of films is the story of human development From the very first story that defined the birth of our civilization the Sumerian Epic of Gilgamesh a story of immortality aging and death comes a tale of why we age We are a species of storytellers The stories we tell to each other define who we are However since we are living in a world marked by age apartheid our interaction with people across different generations is becoming more limited As a result the information we gain about older people comes mostly from secondary sources For the general public films remain the most accessible form of information regarding getting older From the early exposure of cartoons to more elaborate dramas our knowledge of what it means to become old relies on our exposure to films This volume provides insight into how accurate these representations are in line with current knowledge that we have about aging and older adults Arguing that films present a simplified view of aging this analysis relies on scientific evidence to explore why and how such stereotypes affect us Stereotypes have the ability of being internalized and becoming prescriptive of our behavior Numerous studies have attempted different ways of understanding the impact films have on aging Theories as seemingly disparate as feminism and disability have contributed to our understanding of how stereotypes influence our aging process This text builds upon this knowledge and provides new insights by applying current gerontological knowledge the science of aging to unpack and analyze the images of aging that films are providing By readdressing this focus on gerontological theories as diverse as biology and psychology the book readdresses an overlooked approach

Mediating Alzheimer's Scott Selberg, 2022-05-24 An exploration of the representational culture of Alzheimer's disease and how media technologies shape our ideas of cognition and aging With no known cause or cure despite a century of research Alzheimer's disease is a true medical mystery In Mediating Alzheimer's Scott Selberg examines the nature of this enduring national health crisis by looking at the disease's relationship to media and representation He shows how collective investments in different kinds of media have historically shaped how we understand treat and live with this disease Selberg demonstrates how the cognitive abilities that Alzheimer's threatens memory for example are integrated into the operations of representational technologies from Polaroid photographs to Post-its to digital artificial intelligence Focusing on a wide variety of media technologies such as neuroimaging art therapy virtual reality and social media he shows how these cognitively oriented media ultimately help define personhood for people with Alzheimer's Media have changed the practices of successful aging in the United States and Selberg takes us deep into how technologies like digital brain training and online care networks shape ideas of cognition and healthy aging Packed with startlingly fresh insights Mediating Alzheimer s contributes to debates around bioethics the labor of caregiving and a national economy increasingly invested in communication and digital media Probing the very technologies that promise to save and understand our brains it gives us new ways of understanding Alzheimer s disease and aging in America A Guide to Humanistic Studies in Aging Thomas R. Cole,Ruth E. Ray,Robert Kastenbaum,2010-06 Aging has long been of interest to scholars and practitioners in a vast array of academic fields and professions Thomas R Cole Ruth E Ray and Robert Kastenbaum have brought together leaders from a variety of academic realms to explore how aging is depicted in the modern era and the effect of these portrayals on individuals and society
