Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1994 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Energy and Water Development, 1993 Southern African Agribusiness Steven Jaffee, 1999-01-01 Recent economic reforms and political changes within Southern Africa have opened up new opportunities for intra regional agricultural trade and other forms of agribusiness collaboration This collaboration is vital given the relatively small size of individual country markets and the fact that no single country in the region has the resources and capacity to mount a sustained drive to achieve international market prominence and competitiveness This study examines private sector perceptions regarding the agribusiness investment environment and the scope for regional collaboration in Southern Africa It then presents a series of case studies highlighting experiences in such collaboration as well as additional opportunities and constraints The case studies illustrate the varied forms that this intra regional collaboration has or could take including the transfer of technologies and management systems joint logistics and international marketing cross border investment product research and development human resource development raw material sourcing and regional trade in inputs and consumer products Both the agribusiness company survey and the industry case studies include recommendations for policymakers agribusiness managers representatives and agricultural and private sector development practitioners Thai Agriculture Lindsay Falvey, 2000 The history science and social aspects of today s Thai agriculture is traced from hunters and gatherers through agro cities through State religious Empires and immigrating Tai to produce a sustainable agriculture The wet glutinous rice culture determined administrative structures in a pragmatic society which regularly produced a saleable surplus Continuing today these systems consolidated the importance of rice agriculture to national security and economic well being as Chinese and European influence benefited agribusiness and initiated the demand which would expand agriculture through population increase until accessible land was expended As agriculture declined in relative financial importance it continued to provide the benefits of employment crisis resilience self sufficiency rural social support and cultural custody Agricultural institutions evolved from a taxation and dispute resolution base to provide research education and technology transfer at levels below potential as they supported commercial agriculture funded by credit Agribusiness expanded from the 1960s and small holders were partly viewed as a past relic which agribusiness could modernise Unique elements of Thai agriculture include irrigation technologies administrative structures based on water control global leadership in many agricultural commodities multinational agribusiness negotiating approaches potential for further increases from known technologies and an open culture which has embraced new ideas One of the world s few major agricultural exporters Thailand leads the world in rice rubber canned pineapple and black tiger prawn production and export the region in chicken meat export and several other commodities and feeds more the four times its own population from less intensive agriculture than its neighbours Poised to benefit from expansion in livestock demand poverty reduction and improved education research and legal and social systems evident in the recent Asian financial crisis will be considered with popular concern for socially sensitive alternatives for small holder farmers to co exist with commercial agriculture Thailand will likely remain one of the world s major agricultural countries in social environmental and economic terms for the foreseeable future as it addresses the continuing rural issues of poverty and inequity Alternative Farming Systems, Economic Aspects Karl Schneider,1996
