Art and the Creative Unconscious Erich Neumann, 1999 First Published in 1999 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Art and the Creative Unconscious Erich Neumann, 2026-01-20 A landmark account of how artistic expression arises from the collective unconscious This book brings together four essays by analytical psychologist Erich Neumann who explores the connections between creativity and the unconscious mind The archetypes of the collective unconscious he argues are intrinsically formless psychic components that take form in art The psychology of the individual in whom they appear the mediums of expression through which they pass and the time and place in which they occur mold their varying forms Neumann illustrates his theme in the first essay Leonardo da Vinci and the Mother Archetype in which he shows how the work of art and art itself were for Leonardo not ends in themselves but rather instruments and expressions of his inner life He follows with Art and Time A Note on Marc Chagall and Creative Man and Transformation Neumann sees the artist as a hero in isolation a tragically lonely figure whose mission is often to oppose the cultural canon of the age He demonstrates how the problem of form in modern art is linked to the chaos of the modern world and a fundamental change in how the individual seeks a life of dignity Chimes of Change and Hours Audrey Borenstein, 1983 Encompassing a variety of perspectives on the lives of older women in modern America this book is a rich mosaic drawing on demographic social psychological social historical economic and gerontological data and incorporating transcripts of oral histories interviews with women artists fiction and essays by and about women in the second half of their lives autobiographies diaries journals letters and other sources Life and Work of Erich Neumann Angelica Löwe, 2020-05-10 Life and Work of Erich Neumann On the Side of the Inner Voice is the first book to discuss Erich Neumann's life work and relationship with C G Jung Neumann 1905-1960 is considered Jung's most important student and in this deeply personal and unique volume Angelica Löwe casts Neumann's comprehensive work in a completely new light Based on conversations with Neumann's children Rali Loewenthal Neumann and Professor Micha Neumann Löwe explores Neumann's childhood and adolescent years in Part I including how he met his wife and muse Julie Blumenfeld In Part II the book traces their life and work in Tel Aviv where they moved in the early 1930s amid growing anti Jewish tensions in Hitler's Germany Finally in Part III Löwe analyses Neumann's most famous works This is the first book length discussion of the existential questions motivating Neumann's work as well as the socio historical circumstances pertaining to the problem of Jewish identity formation against rising anti-Semitism in the early 20th century It will be essential reading for Jungian analysts and analytical psychologists in practice and in training as well as scholars of Jungian and post Jungian studies and Jewish studies Deeper Than Oblivion Raz Yosef, Boaz Hagin, 2016-05-19 In this collection leading scholars in both film studies and Israeli studies show that beyond representing familiar historical accounts or striving to offer a more complete and accurate depiction of the past Israeli cinema has innovatively used trauma and memory to offer insights about Israeli society and to engage with cinematic experimentation and invention Tracing a long line of films from the 1940s up to the 2000s the contributors use close readings of these films not only to reconstruct the past but also to actively engage with it Addressing both high profile and lesser known fiction and non fiction Israeli films Deeper than Oblivion underlines the unique aesthetic choices many of these films make in their attempt to confront the difficulties perhaps even impossibility of representing trauma By looking at recent and classic examples of Israeli films that turn to memory and trauma this book addresses the pressing issues and disputes in the field today

Late Style and its Discontents Gordon McMullan, Sam Smiles, 2016-10-06 Late style is a critical term routinely deployed to characterise the work of selected authors composers and creative artists as they enter their last phase of production often but not only in old age Taken at face value this terminology merely points to a chronological division in the artist's oeuvre late being the antonym of early or the third term in the triad early middle late However almost from its inception the idea of late style or late work has been freighted with aesthetic associations and expectations that promote it as a special episode in the artist's creative life Late style is often characterised as the imaginative response made by exceptional talents to the imminence of their death In their confrontation with death creative artists critics claim produce work that is by turns a determination to continue while strength remains a summation of their life's work and a radical vision of the essence of their craft And because this creative phenomenon is understood as primarily an existential response to a common fate so late style is understood as something that transcends the particularities of place time and medium Critics seeking to understand late work regularly invoke the examples of Titian Goethe and Beethoven as exemplars of what constitutes late work proposing that something unites the late style of authors composers and creative artists who otherwise would not be bracketed together and that lateness per se is a special order of creative work The essays in this collection resist this position Ranging across literature the visual arts music and scientific work the material assembled here looks closely at the material biographical and other contexts in which the work was produced and seeks both to question the assumptions surrounding late style and to prompt a more critical understanding of the last works of writers artists and composers

The Secret Artist Lesley Chamberlain, 2011-01-04 Widely acclaimed for giving an understanding of the connection between Nietzsche's personal experience and his most famous ideas Christopher Lehmann Haupt New York Times in her biography of Nietzsche Nietzsche in Turin Chamberlain now renders a similar service to readers of Freud In this book part biography part literary criticism she takes the reader into the mind of Freud toward a better understanding of the thinker his work and art itself The very idea of the subconscious as a constant active presence in our daily lives was Freud's greatest contribution and has allowed generations of people to experience their lives more deeply His rigorous exploration of the dynamism and structures of the subconscious Chamberlain argues was in itself an important work of art Using Freud's own writing on art and the aesthetic theories of thinkers ranging from Nietzsche to Lionel Trilling Chamberlain examines Freud's art and shows how his imaginative creations have revolutionized not only mental health but our thinking about art in general by opening up the individual subconscious as a subject In elegant accessible prose she describes how Freud split the aesthetic atom releasing a vast energy for individual creativity

Art and Life Ute Ben Yosef, 2023-10-14 Art Life The Story of Samuel Bak traces the development of a child prodigy deeply shaped by the catastrophic events of the Shoah from his early artistic influences to his years in the Vilna Ghetto and Landsberg DP Camp his formal training in Israel and Paris and his fruitful art career in Rome New York Switzerland and Boston Augmenting the rich existing literature on Bak Art Life explores in thoughtful prose and through reproductions of both iconic and rarely seen work created between 1942 and 2022 how he navigated the prevailing art trends of the mid twentieth century in search of his own pictorial language It considers the personal historical and artistic currents that led Bak now aged 90 to create an astonishing body of work that bears witness to cataclysmic events embodies our common humanity of suffering and hope and poses questions about the repair of the world

Pastoral Process Susan Snyder, 1998 Pastoral Process draws a basic distinction between two aspects of the pastoral ideal the Arcadian pastoral which locates the unspoiled paradise in space apart from the complexities of city and court and finds it accessible for limited periods of recuperation and reorientation and the Golden Age mode which locates the ideal pastoral life in time gone by always already lost as soon as it is apprehended as paradise The author's central aim is an archaeology of the nostalgia based pastoral of the vanished Golden Age On the surface level her close readings of certain Renaissance poems and sequences Spenser's Shepherdes Calender Marvell's Mower poems and Milton's Lycidas clarify pastoral process the dislocating transition from innocence to experience from secure centeredness in a comfortable self mirroring world to a new condition of division displacement and alienation The advent of individuation and sexual desire and the internalization of undirectional time and universal death transform the pastoral paradise into a wasteland or leave the newly self conscious protagonist outside his former idyll looking in Excavation beneath these initial readings uncovers the master myth of Eden that informs them as well as parallel narratives of loss such as the various accounts of the Golden Age or the tale in Plato's Symposium of beings fallen from original wholeness into fragmentation and lack Ramifications of the master myth include Christian and Jewish commentaries that helped shape traditional understandings of the story and especially the subversive tradition that persisted against the strong tide of orthodox interpretation in reading the Fall of Man in terms of childhood wholeness breaking down in the wake of sexual knowledge and the burden of full separated consciousness Below the poetic utterances and the shaping myths lies the deeper archaeological stratum of the unconscious and the mechanisms that construct always retrospectively and often counterfactually a blissful childhood Beyond Freud's own theories later offshoots and reworkings of his psychology are invoked to explore psychological experiences and needs that inform both myths and poems Jung the developmental psychologists and especially Lacan The study concludes by returning to the surface to consider the pastoral impulse in historical terms as a defining moment in the careers of Spenser Marvell and Milton and as a special urgency in the early modern times they inhabited

book Wood explores enduring and powerful theories on art creativity and what Jung called the creative spirit in order to illuminate how artists can truly understand what it means to be a creator By bringing together insights on creativity from some of depth psychology's most iconic thinkers such as C G Jung James Hillman and Joseph Campbell as well as featuring a selection of creators who have been influenced by these ideas such as Martha Graham Mary Oliver Stanley Kunitz and Ursula K Le Guin this book explores archetypal thought and the role of the artist in society This unique approach emphasizes the foundational need to understand and work with the unconscious forces that underpin a creative calling deepening our understanding of the transformational power of creativity and the vital role of the artist in the modern world Acting as a touchstone for inquiries into the nature of creativity and of the soul this enlightening book is perfect for artists and creators of all types as well as Jungian analysts and therapists and academics interested in the arts humanities and depth psychology
