African Americans In The South Issues Of Race Class And Gender:

African Americans in the South Hans A. Baer, Yvonne Jones, 1992 This volume reflects a new commitment by American anthropologists to engage in what has been called the anthropology of racism the analysis of systems of inequality based on biological differences Comprising nine papers and related commentary African Americans in the South examines racism class stratification and sexism as they bear on the African American struggle for social justice equality and cultural identity in the South The essays fall into three broad categories economic survival strategies health and reproductive problems and religious responses to the larger society Essays in the first category discuss African American teen pregnancy and mutual aid societies The second group focuses on health practices and knowledge among blacks in a Georgia town African American midwifery in North Carolina an AIDS education program in a Tennessee city and eating habits in rural North Carolina The essays in the last category emphasize the diversity of the African American religious experience by focusing on black Pentecostals Jews and Mormons in the South Together these writings constitute an important concerted first engagement of issues crucial to an understanding of the history and social life of the South

Race, Gender and Class Bart Landry, 2016-12-05 This edited volume provides race class gender theory and detailed guidelines strategies and rules for the methodology of the Race Class and Gender approach It uses Intersection Theory to expose students to articles that employ the Race Class Gender approach

The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America

African American Foodways Anne Bower, 2009 Moving beyond catfish and collard greens to the soul of African American cooking

Economic Ethics & the Black Church Wylin D. Wilson, 2017-09-07 This book examines the relationship between race religion and economics within the black church The book features unheard voices of individuals experiencing economic deprivation and the faith communities who serve as their refuge Thus this project examines the economic ethics of black churches in the rural South whose congregants and broader communities have long struggled amidst persistent poverty Through a case study of communities in Alabama s Black Belt this book argues that if the economic ethic of the Black Church remains accommodationist it will continue to become increasingly irrelevant to communities that experience persistent poverty Despite its historic role in combatting racial oppression and social injustice the Church has also perpetuated ideologies that uncritically justify unjust social structures Wilson shows how the Church can shift the conversation and reality of poverty by moving from a legacy of accommodationism and toward a legacy of empowering liberating economic ethics

Navigating Souths Michele Grigsby Coffey, Jodi Skipper, 2017-08 The work of considering imagining and theorizing the U S South in regional national and global contexts is an intellectual project that has been going on for some time Scholars in history literature and other disciplines have developed an advanced understanding of the historical social and cultural forces that have helped to shape the U S South However most of the debates on these subjects have taken place within specific academic disciplines with few attempts to cross engage Navigating Souths broadens these exchanges by facilitating transdisciplinary conversations about southern studies scholarship The fourteen original essays in Navigating Souths articulate questions about the significances of the South as a theoretical and literal home base for social science and humanities researchers They also examine challenges faced by researchers who identify as southern studies scholars as well as by those who live and work in the regional South and show how researchers have responded to these challenges In doing so this book project seeks to reframe the field of southern studies as it is currently being practiced by social science and humanities scholars and thus reshape historical and cultural conceptualizations of the region

Race, Class, Gender, and American Environmentalism Dorceta E. Taylor, 2002 Embracing Sisterhood Katrina Bell McDonald, 2007 Embracing Sisterhood describes the contemporary state of the black woman collective and explores the legacy of black sisterhood in these times Through an examination of how these ideas are articulated and experienced in the population McDonald determines the relative degree of black sisterhood and black step sisterhood that exists among African American women today

The Southern Albatross Philip D. Dillard, Randal L. Hall, 1999 Throughout their essays these emerging scholars contribute significantly to legal military cultural and women s history while demonstrating that race and ethnicity are woven into all aspects of the South s past
