Anthropological Demography Toward A New Synthesis:

Anthropological Demography David I. Kertzer, Thomas Earl Fricke, 1997-07-15 Revised papers originally presented at the Brown University Conference on Anthropological Demography Nov 3 5 1994 The Continuing Demographic Transition

G. W. Jones, R. M. Douglas, J. C. Caldwell, R. M. D'Souza, 1998-01-29 From the perspective of human society one of the most significant occurrences of the twentieth century has been the demographic transition the movement from tragic and wastefully high death and birth rates to low rates in many countries Many other countries however are still at only the early or intermediate stages of this process In these countries means need to be found to accelerate the transition This book brings new evidence to bear on aspects of the demographic transition with contributions from leading demographers anthropologists sociologists and historians The book ranges widely over the history and current experience of both developed and developing countries with particular emphasis on Asia and Africa The new field of anthropological demography is strongly represented with contributions challenging much conventional wisdom Population Studies and Development from Theory to Fieldwork

Véronique Petit, 2017-10-30 This book addresses major population and development issues fertility and reproductive health migrations gender education poverty and inequalities To that aim it revisits and considerably enlarges Kingsley Davis 1963 theory of change and response using interdisciplinary methodologies On the basis of four decades of field research 1985 2015 it questions the rationality of the actors how culture shapes socio demographic behaviours in a context of modernity and globalisation More specifically it casts new light on the interactions of individuals families networks and local communities with the State and its population policy Handbook of Population Dudley L. Poston, Michael

Micklin, 2006-08-10 This comprehensive handbook provides an overview and update of the issues theories processes and applications of the social science of population studies The volume s 30 chapters cover the full range of conceptual empirical disciplinary and applied approaches to the study of demographic phenomena This book is the first effort to assess the entire field since Hauser and Duncan s 1959 classic The Study of Population The chapter authors are among the leading contributors to demographic scholarship over the past four decades They represent a variety of disciplines and theoretical perspectives as well as interests in both basic and applied research Discovering Successful Pathways in Children's Development

Thomas S. Weisner, 2005-02-15 Discovering Successful Pathways in Children's Development provides a new perspective on the study of childhood and family life Successful development is enhanced when communities provide meaningful life pathways that children can seek out and engage Successful pathways include both a culturally valued direction for development and competence in skills that matter for a child s subsequent success as a person as well as a student parent worker or citizen To understand successful pathways requires a mix of qualitative quantitative and ethnographic methods the state of the art for research practice among developmentalists educators and policymakers alike This volume includes new studies of minority and immigrant families school achievement culture race and gender poverty identity and experiments and interventions meant to improve family and child contexts Discovering Successful Pathways in Children s Development will be of enormous value to everyone interested in the issues of human development education and social welfare and among professionals charged with the task of improving the lives of children in our communities

Population and Progress in a Yoruba Town Elisha P. Renne,2003 Argues that progress and fertility cannot be expected to follow a universal trajectory Migration Theory Caroline B. Brettell,James F. Hollifield,2013-05-13 During the last decade the issue of migration has increased in global prominence and has caused controversy among the host countries around the world Continuing their interdisciplinary approach editors Catherine Brettell and James Hollifield have included revised essays from the first edition in such fields as anthropology political science and history This edition also features new essays by a demographer geographer and sociologist Embodying Honor Amal Fadlalla,2007-11-20 In the Red Sea Hills of eastern Sudan where poverty famines and conflict loom large women struggle to gain the status of responsible motherhood through bearing and raising healthy children especially sons But biological fate can be capricious in impoverished settings Amidst struggle for survival and expectations of heroic mothering women face realities that challenge their ability to fulfill their prescribed roles Even as the effects of modernity and development global inequities and exclusionary government policies challenge traditional ways of life in eastern Sudan and throughout many parts of Africa reproductive traumas infertility miscarriage children s illnesses and mortality disrupt women s reproductive health and impede their efforts to achieve the status that comes with fertility and motherhood In Embodying Honor Amal Hassan Fadlalla finds that the female body is the locus of anxieties about foreign dangers and diseases threats perceived to be disruptive to morality feminine identities and social well being As a northern Sudanese viewed as an outsider in this region of her native country Fadlalla presents an intimate portrait and thorough analysis that offers an intriguing commentary on the very notion of what constitutes the foreign Fadlalla shows how Muslim Hadendowa women manage health and reproductive suffering in their quest to become responsible mothers and valued members of their communities Her historically grounded ethnography delves into women s reproductive histories personal narratives and ritual logics to reveal the ways in which women challenge cultural understandings of gender honor and reproduction Migration Theory Caroline Brettell,James Frank Hollifield,2000 First published in 2000 Planning Families in Nepal Jan Brunson,2016-03-29 Based on almost a decade of research in the Kathmandu Valley Planning Families in Nepal offers a compelling account of Hindu Nepali women as they face conflicting global and local ideals regarding family planning Promoting a two child norm global family planning programs have disseminated the slogan A small family is a happy family throughout the global South Jan Brunson examines how two generations of Hindu Nepali women negotiate this global message of a two child family and a more local need to produce a son Brunson explains that while women did not prefer sons to daughters they recognized that in the dominant patrilocal family system their daughters would eventually marry and be lost to other households As a result despite recent increases in educational and career opportunities for daughters mothers still hoped for a son who would bring a daughter in law into the family and care for his aging parents Mothers worried about whether their modern rebellious sons would fulfill their filial duties but ultimately those sons demonstrated an enduring commitment to living with their aging parents In the context of rapid social change related to national politics as well as globalization a constant influx of new music clothes gadgets and even governments the sons viewed the multigenerational family as a refuge Throughout Planning Families in Nepal Brunson raises important questions about the notion of planning when applied to family formation arguing that reproduction is better understood as a set of local and global ideals that involve actors with desires and actions with constraints wrought with delays stalling and improvisation
