Anthropology A Junction:

Jewish Studies at the Crossroads of Anthropology and History Ra'anan S. Boustan, Oren Kosansky, Marina Rustow, 2011-01-24 Over the past several decades the field of Jewish studies has expanded to encompass an unprecedented range of research topics historical periods geographic regions and analytical approaches Yet there have been few systematic efforts to trace these developments to consider their implications and to generate new concepts appropriate to a more inclusive view of Jewish culture and society Jewish Studies at the Crossroads of Anthropology and History brings together scholars in anthropology history religious studies comparative literature and other fields to chart new directions in Jewish studies across the disciplines This groundbreaking volume explores forms of Jewish experience that span the period from antiquity to the present and encompass a wide range of textual ritual spatial and visual materials The essays give full consideration to non written expressions of ritual performance artistic production spoken narrative and social experience through which Jewish life emerges More than simply contributing to an appreciation of Jewish diversity the contributors devote their attention to three key concepts authority diaspora and tradition that have long been central to the study of Jews and Judaism Moving beyond inherited approaches and conventional academic boundaries the volume reconsiders these core concepts reorienting our understanding of the dynamic relationships between text and practice and continuity and change in Jewish contexts More broadly this volume furthers conversation across the disciplines by using Judaic studies to provoke inquiry into theoretical problems in a range of other areas

Critical Junctions Don Kalb, Herman Tak, 2006-07-01 The cultural turn has been a multifarious and pervasive phenomenon in Western universities and modes of social knowledge since the early 1980s This volume focuses on the conjunction of two disciplines where both the analytic promises as well as the difficulties involved in the meeting of humanist and social science approaches soon became obvious Anthropologists and historians have come together here in order to recapture elaborate and criticize pre Cultural Turn and non Cultural Turn modes of analysing structures of experience feeling subjectivity and action in human societies and to highlight the still unexploited possibilities developed among others in the work of scholars such as Norbert Elias Max Gluckman Eric Wolf E P Thompson and Raymond Williams
