Another Way Of Telling:

Another Way of Telling John Berger, 2011-07-13 There are no photographs which can be denied All photographs have the status of fact What is to be examined is in what way photography can and cannot give meaning to facts With these words two of our most thoughtful and eloquent interrogators of the visual offer a singular meditation on the ambiguities of what is seemingly our straightforward art form As constructed by John Berger and the renowned Swiss photographer Jean Mohr that theory includes images as well as words not only analysis but anecdote and memoir Another Way of Telling explores the tension between the photographer and the photographed between the picture and its viewers between the filmed moment and the memories that it so resembles Combining the moral vision of the critic and the practical engagement of the photographer Berger and Mohr have produced a work that expands the frontiers of criticism first charged by Walter Benjamin Roland Barthes and Susan Sontag

Another Way of Telling John Berger, Jean Mohr, 2016 In one of the most eloquent accounts of photography ever devised originally published in 1982 and unavailable for many years the writer John Berger and the photographer Jean Mohr set out to understand the fundamental nature of photography and how it makes its impact Asking a range of questions What is a photograph What do photographs mean How can they be used they give their answers in terms of a photograph as a meeting place where the interests of the photographer the photographed the viewer and those who are using the photography are often contradictory From these beginnings they develop a theory of photography that has at its centre the form's essential ambiguity arguing that photography is totally unlike a film and has nothing to do with reportage Rather it constitutes another way of telling The unique combination of critic and photographer results in a work that moves beyond the landmarks established by Walter Benjamin Roland Barthes and Susan Sontag to establish a new theory of photography This unique combination of words and pictures includes 230 photographs by Jean Mohr

Another Way of Telling John Berger, Jean Mohr, 1982 Photographs don't lie or do they Two of our most thoughtful and eloquent interrogators of the visual examine the ambiguities of what is seemingly our most straightforward art form ANOTHER WAY OF TELLING explores the tension between the photographer and the photographed between picture and viewer and between the filmed moment and memories it resembles Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved

Another Tale to Tell Fred Pfeil, 1990-05-17 Through his work as a fiction writer critic and activist Fred Pfeil has sought to extend the progressive possibilities within contemporary American culture Idiosyncratic and provocative Another Tale to Tell moves from evaluations of politically engaged texts and practices such as Hans Haacke's deconstructive artwork Chester Himes Harlem police thrillers cyberpunk and the feminist science fiction of Octavia Butler to considerations of the history dynamics and potential of postmodern culture Pfeil's work on postmodernity is distinct from the spate of their works on the subject in its insistence on the social base of postmodern practices within today's professional managerial class and in his endeavour both to use and to criticize Marxist feminist psychoanalytic and poststructuralist thought in order to illuminate our present political impasses and openings From his audacious reading of the film River's Edge as the terminus of the vexed history of bourgeois narrative and his analysis of Reaganite oedipality in Back to the Future to his unsettling meditation on the poststructuralist paradise embodied in contemporary SF Pfeil sorts through a welter of contemporary cultural texts and practices for the glimmerings of a postmodern narrative and politics that may truly be another tale to tell Summer of Love Aiye-ko ooto, 2018-11-02 What a wonderful Summer it is I wash spit and drink love From the rising of the sun to the going down of the same Perfect If there is ever an adjective for the sunny days and moonlights I could find beauty in anything and everything The nights left hope for a morning of reunion The afternoons for rendezvous and evenings for long walks in gardens Tell me what else is held back from love Aiyeko ooto observes a summer of lovers 50 poems in 5 movements greens are luxuriant when you are happy The colors of flowers radiant and shimmering Even though a few spots of rain interrupt our rituals We justify it with a need to cool the heat OK so maybe it's not perfect Soft as sandy shores are don't you get few grains blown into your eyes Since when has that stopped anyone going to the beach If Summer comes again I'll be there

Feminist Dilemmas in Qualitative Research Jane Ribbens, Rosalind Edwards, 1997-12-12 How can researchers produce work with relevance to theoretical and formal traditions and requirements of public academic knowledge while still remaining faithful to the experiences and accounts of research participants based in private settings Feminist Dilemmas in Qualitative Research explores this key dilemma and examines the interplay between theory epistemology and the detailed practice of research It does this across the whole research process access data collection and analysis and writing up research It goes on to consider ways of achieving high standards of reflexivity and openness in the strategic choices made during research examining these issues for specific projects in an open and accessible style Particular themes examined are the research dilemmas that occur from feminist perspectives in relation to researching private and personal social worlds the position of the researcher as situated between public knowledge and private experience and the dilemmas raised for researchers seeking to contribute to academic discourse while remaining close to their knowledge forms The Coming of the Millennium Darrell Fasching, 2000-12 Throughout the last two millennia Christianity understood its divinely mandated mission to be to conquer the world for Christ Too often this proclamation led Christians to imagine that their goal must be the elimination of all non Christians from the world through conversion or when that fails through coercion and violence e.g the Inquisition the Crusades anti Semitic persecution Western colonialism etc At the beginning of the third millennium and an age of global diversity Darrell J Fasching argues that it is time for Christians to reject this view of their mission along with the trail of prejudice and violence it has created and replace militaristic metaphors of conquest with the biblical message of hospitality to the stranger When we welcome the stranger according to biblical teachings we welcome God Genesis 18 1 5 the Messiah Matthew 25 35 or an angel of God Hebrews 13 2 Fasching takes us on a journey through the stories of the Bible to show that diversity is God's covenant intention for humanity Consequently the mission of Christians must not be to convert or eliminate non Christians but rather to welcome them as strangers for a world without strangers is a world without God

Muriel Rukeyser and Documentary Catherine Gander, 2013-01-04 Provides a new perspective on the documentary diversity of Muriel Rukeyser's work and influences This study of twentieth century American poet Muriel Rukeyser explores the multiple avenues of her poetics of connection to reveal a profound engagement with the equally intertextual documentary genre It examines previously overlooked photo narratives poetry prose and archival material and demonstrates an enduring dialogue between the poet's relational aesthetics and documentary's similarly interdisciplinary and creative approach to the world By considering the sources of documentary in Rukeyser's work the study provides insight into her guiding poetic principles situating her as a vital figure in the history of twentieth century American literature and culture and as a pioneering personality in the development of American Studies

The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield, 2011-05-27 In The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield challenges the idea that photographs of political violence exploit their subjects and pander to the voyeuristic tendencies of their viewers Instead she argues passionately that looking at such images and learning to see the people in them is an ethically and politically necessary act that connects us to our modern history of violence and probes the human capacity for cruelty Grappling with critics from Walter Benjamin and Bertolt Brecht to Susan Sontag and the postmoderns and analyzing photographs from such events as the Holocaust China's Cultural Revolution and recent terrorist acts Linfield explores the complex connection between photojournalism and the rise of human rights ideals In the book's concluding section she examines the indispensable work of Robert Capa James Nachtwey and Gilles Peress and asks how photography should respond to the increasingly nihilistic trajectory of modern warfare A bracing and unsettling book The Cruel Radiance convincingly demonstrates that if we hope to alleviate political violence we must first truly understand it and to do that we must begin to look
