

Teens and Tots: It's Better to Wait

Why teen pregnancy prevention matters

Children of teen mothers are more likely to be born prematurely and at low birthweight.

Nearly all teens and adults say that reducing teen pregnancy is a very effective way to reduce the high school dropout rate and improve academic achievement.

Less than half of mothers who have a child before they turn 18 ever graduate from high school.

Less than 2 percent of mothers who have children before 18 have a college degree by age 30.

Teen pregnancy is closely linked to critical social issues such as poverty, educational attainment, involvement in criminal justice and child welfare systems, and more.

What is CSC doing to reduce teen pregnancy?

The Teen Outreach Program® (TOP®) is known as TOP®.

One of the most effective youth development programs for building teens' educational success, healthy behaviors and relationships, and life and leadership skills.

In 2018, CSC funded 41 TOP clubs through Children's Home Society of Florida, Community Partners of South Florida, and Urban League of Palm Beach County.

TOP clubs serve nearly 700 youth in Palm Beach County.
