Between Politics And Markets Firms Competition And Institutional Change In Post Mao China:

Between Politics and Markets Yi-min Lin, 2001-12-17 Between Politics and Markets examines how the decline of central planning in post Mao China was related to the rise of two markets an economic market for the exchange of products and factors and a political market for the diversion to private interests of state assets and authorities Lin reveals their concurrent development through an account of how industrial firms competed their way out of the plan through exchange relations with one another and with state agents He argues that the two markets were mutually accommodating that the political market grew also from a decay of the state s self monitoring capacity and that economic actors competition for special favors from state agents constituted a major driving force of economic institutional change

Politics and Markets in Rural China Björn Alpermann, 2012-03-29 Thirty years have passed since the beginning of the reform era in China which saw important changes in agriculture and rural organizations but it is clear that certain entrenched legacies from pre reform China still linger on even after WTO accession most importantly the key role played by state actors and politics in the development of markets in rural China Although increasingly diversified markets have emerged for major agricultural inputs and products their development cannot be understood without taking this role into account Against this backdrop the contributors to this book offer a fresh account of rural politics and markets consciously linking these two realms and highlighting their interconnectedness The book is organized in three parts addressing respectively markets for agricultural inputs and outputs as well as current policies in rural development The perspectives adopted link macro and micro level analysis in each chapter and thus contribute substantially to our understanding of existing markets As an original account of rural politics and markets in China this book will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese politics economics development studies and political economy

Politics in China William A. Joseph, 2014 On October 1 2009 the People's Republic of China PRC celebrated the 60th anniversary of its founding And what an eventful and tumultuous six decades it had been During that time under the leadership of the Chinese Communist Party CCP China was transformed from one of the world's poorest countries into the world's fastest growing major economy and from a weak state barely able to govern or protect its own territory to a rising power that is challenging the United States for global influence Over those same years the PRC also experienced the most deadly famine in human history caused largely by the actions and inactions of its political leaders Not long after there was a collapse of government authority that pushed the country to the brink of and in some places actually into civil war and anarchy Today China is for the most part peaceful prospering and proud This is the China that was on display for the world to see during the Beijing Olympics in 2008 The CCP maintains a firm grip on power through a combination of popular support largely based on its recent record of promoting rapid economic growth and harsh repression of political opposition Yet the party and country face serious challenges on many fronts including a slowing economy environmental desecration pervasive corruption extreme inequalities and a rising tide of social protest

Shaping China's Civil Aviation Policy Alan Williams, 2016-05-13 The emergence of China as a future major participant in international aviation raises some interesting questions especially from a strategic policy perspective The progressive shift from a command to a mixed market economy under the central leadership of the Beijing administration now finds itself faced with the needs to balance a strategic duality in the context of the role of China's civil aviation industry In a very real sense this situation requires the design and accommodation of a growing role for China's mainstream carriers within the operational context of the need to meet the complex challenges from increasing international market competition In parallel with such major external pressures central government must also accommodate domestic priorities with regard to internal economic development The fruits of economic progress as a function of market reform are commonly understood to have positively reshaped the live of only a proportion of the national population to date The need to create greater access to economic growth for the more remote western and northern provinces has required that the rapid development of airports become a factor in the planning and allocation of developmental priorities To complicate matters further prevailing requirements of airspace defence remain a major parameter within the larger context of national aviation policy This book explores the political economic and strategic issues raised by the inevitable tension between the domestic and international aspects of Beijing s current civil aviation strategy It also seeks to identify some of the problems that face the industry as a key sector in the larger context of macroeconomic reform and the further pressures now being exerted by China s membership of the WTO
