Reanimating Industrial Spaces Hilary Orange,2016-06-16 Reanimating Industrial Spaces explores the relationships between people and the places of former industry through approaches that incorporate and critique memory work The chapters in this volume consider four broad questions What is the relationship between industrial heritage and memory How is memory involved in the process of place making in regards to industrial spaces What are the strengths and pitfalls of conducting memory work What can be learned from cross disciplinary perspectives and methods The contributors have created a set of diverse case studies including iron smelting in Uganda Puerto Rican sugar mills and concrete factories in Albania which examine differing socio economic contexts and approaches to industrial spaces both in the past and in contemporary society A range of memory work is also illustrated from ethnography oral history digital technologies excavation and archival and documentary research

After Modernity Rodney Harrison,John Schofield,2010-07-22 This book summarizes archaeological approaches to the contemporary past and suggests a new agenda for the archaeology of late modern societies The principal focus is the archaeology of developed de industrialized societies during the second half of the twentieth century and the beginning of the twenty first This period encompasses the end of the Cold War and the beginning of the internet age a period which sits firmly within what we would recognize to be a period of lived and living memory Rodney Harrison and John Schofield explore how archaeology can inform the study of this time period and the study of our own society through detailed case studies and an in depth summary of the existing literature Their book draws together cross disciplinary perspectives on contemporary material culture studies and develops a new agenda for the study of the materiality of late modern societies

About England David Matless, 2023-06-17 A cultural history of Englishness and the idea of England since 1960 Brexit thrust long fraught debates about Englishness and the idea of England into the spotlight About England explores imaginings of English identity since the 1960s in politics geography art architecture film and music David Matless reveals how the national is entangled with the local the regional the European the international the imperial the post imperial and the global He also addresses physical landscapes from the village and country house to urban suburban and industrial spaces and he reflects on the nature of English modernity In short About England uncovers the genealogy of recent cultural and political debates in England showing how many of today's social anxieties developed throughout the last half century

American Industrial Archaeology Douglas C McVarish, 2016-09-16 This comprehensive guide provides the reader with basic information of the most common types of structures sites and objects encountered in industrial archaeology These include bridges railroads roads waterways several types of production and extraction factories water and power generating facilities and others Each chapter contains a brief introduction to the technology or features of each class of installation illustrations with characteristics that help identifying important elements of the type and a glossary of common terms Two chapters offer valuable guidance on researching industrial properties and landscapes For students avocational archaeologists and cultural resource management surveys this volume will be an essential reference

International Handbook of Historical Archaeology Teresita Majewski, David Gaimster, 2009-06-07 In studying the past archaeologists have focused on the material remains of our ancestors Prehistorians generally have only artifacts to study and rely on the diverse material record for their understanding of past societies and their behavior Those involved in studying historically documented cultures not only have extensive material remains but also contemporary texts images and a range of investigative technologies to enable them to build a broader and more reflexive picture of how past societies communities and individuals operated and behaved Increasingly historical archaeology refers not to a particular period place or a method but rather an approach that interrogates the tensions between artifacts and texts irrespective of context In short historical archaeology provides direct evidence for how humans have shaped the world we live in today Historical archaeology is a branch of global archaeology that has grown in the last 40 years from its North American base into an increasingly global community of archaeologists each studying their area of the world in a historical context Where historical archaeology started as part of the study of the post Columbian societies of the United States and Canada it has now expanded to interface with the post medieval archaeologies of Europe and the diverse post imperial experiences of Africa Latin America and Australasia The 36 essays in the International Handbook of Historical Archaeology have been specially commissioned from the leading researchers in their fields creating a wide ranging digest of the increasingly global field of historical archaeology The volume is divided into two sections the first reviewing the key themes issues and approaches of historical archaeology

today and the second containing a series of case studies charting the development and current state of historical archaeological practice around the world This key reference work captures the energy and diversity of this global discipline today A Dictionary of Archaeology Ian Shaw,Robert Jameson,2002-05-06 This dictionary provides those studying or working in archaeology with a complete reference to the field
