term lived on long past the journal's circulation cycle as both an urban infill strategy and an acknowledgment of the ceding of city planning responsibility to the lottery of private developers Myers's design practice has thus always been a social justice practice as well Myers is also a brilliant designer of residential houses that take advantage of local landscape contexts and adaptive reuse of building materials including steel and glass Five essays on urban planning civic structures reuse of historic buildings single and multi family housing and theaters reinforce Myers's commitment to urbanism and reveal his flexibility with modes of modernism Natalie Shivers introduces the early planning work in Toronto and traces the vacant lottery idea of neighborhood infill to the influential Grand Avenue project in Los Angeles Howard Shubert examines the architectural and planning strategies and political complexities of several civic structures in Canada and the United States Luis Hoyos explores Myers's additions and adaptations to historic buildings in diverse urban contexts Lauren Bricker focuses on the use of steel and other industrial materials in Myers's houses and analyses the neighborhood based designs of his multi family housing Charles Oakley describes the technical innovations site planning and historical underpinnings of Myers's theaters and performance complexes House Documents, Otherwise Publ. as Executive Documents United States.
