the idea of a national literature They have changed the perception of the Anglo American literary market and its many processes of transatlantic production distribution reception and criticism Rather than dwelling on comparisons or engaging with the notion of influence transatlantic literary studies seek to understand North American British and Irish literature as linked with each other by virtue of multi layered historical and cultural ties and pay special attention to the many refractions and mutual interferences that have characterized these traditions since colonial times This handbook brings together articles that summarize some of the crucial transatlantic concepts debates and topics The contributions contained in this volume examine periods in literary and cultural history literary movements individual authors as well as genres from a transatlantic perspective combining theoretical insight with textual analysis

Contested Spaces, Counter-Narratives, and Culture from Below in Canada Roxanne Rimstead, Domenico A. Beneventi, 2019-02-28 Contested Spaces Counter narratives and Culture from Below in Canada and Quebec explores strategies for reading space and conflict in Canadian and Quebecois literature and cultural performances posing questions such as how do these texts and performances produce and contest spatial practices What are the roles of the nation city community and individual subject in reproducing space particularly in times of global hegemony and neocolonialism And in what ways do marginalized individuals and communities represent contest or appropriate spaces through counter narratives and expressions of culture from below Focusing on discord rather than harmony and consensus this collection disturbs the idealized space of Canadian multicultural pluralism to carry literary analysis and cultural studies into spaces often undetected and unforeseen including flophouses and slums shantytowns and urban alleyways underground spaces and peep shows and inner city urban parks as they are experienced by minorities and other marginalized groups These essays are the products of sustained high level collaboration across French and English academic communities in Canada to facilitate theoretical exchange on the topic of space and contestation uncover geographies of exclusion and generate new spaces of hope in the spirit of pioneering works by Henri Lefebvre Michel Foucault Michel de Certeau Doreen Massey David Harvey and other prominent theorists of space

The Urban Condition: Literary Trajectories through Canada's Postmetropolis Eva Darias-Beautell, 2019-04-30 Examining the centrality of the city in Canadian literary production post 1960 this collection of critical essays presents an interdisciplinary representation of the urban from a variety of backgrounds and perspectives By analysing contemporary Canadian literature in English the contributors intend to produce not only an alternative picture of the national literary traditions but also fresh articulations of the relationship between Canadian identity citizenship and nation Since the 1960s metropolitan regions across the world have experienced radical transformation For critical urban studies scholars this phenomenon has been described as a restructuring This study argues that in Canada this restructuring has been accompanied by a literary rearrangement of its canon consisting of a gradual shift of focus from the wild or rural to the urban Alluding to the changes within contemporary Canadian cities the term postmetropolis locates the contributors shared theoretical framework within a critical postmodern paradigm Centered on a particular selection of poetic or fictional texts each essay pushes the theoretical framework further suggesting the need for new tools of interpretation and analysis This book presents an urban literary portrait of Canada that is both thematically and conceptually coherent Using a range of interdisciplinary methodologies it adeptly navigates a range of urban issues such as surveillance asylum diaspora mobility the queer and the post political This book will be of interest to those studying or working on Canadian literature both in Canada and internationally as well as to those scholars engaged in investigations that intersect literature and urban studies

Backwoodsmen as Ecocritical Motif in French Canadian Literature Anne Rehill, 2016-08-30 In New France and early Canada young men who ventured into the forest to hunt and trade with Amerindians coureurs de bois runners of the woods later traveling in big teams of canoes voyageurs were known for their independence Often described as half wild themselves they linked the European and Indian societies eventually helping to form a new culture with elements of both From an ecocritical perspective they represent both negative and positive aspects of the human historical trajectory because in addition to participating in the environmentally abusive fur trade they also symbolize the way forward through intercultural connections and business relationships The four novels analyzed here Joseph Charles Tach s Forestiers et voyageurs Moeurs et l gendes canadiennes 1863 Louis H mon s Maria Chapdelaine 1916 L o Paul Desrosiers Les Engag s du Grand Portage 1938 and Antonine Maillet s P lagie la Charrette 1979 portray the backwoodsmen operating in a collaborative mode within the realistic context of the need to make money They entered folklore through the 19th century literary efforts of Tach and others to construct a distinct French Canadian national identity then in an unstable and continually disrupted process of formation Their entry into literature necessarily brought their Amerindian business and personal partners thus making intercultural connections a foundation of the national identity that Tach and others strove to construct and also mirror As figures in literature they embody changing ideas of the self and of the cultures and ethnicities that they connect both physically and in an abstract sense Because constructions of self identity result in behavior studying this dynamic contributes to ecocritical efforts to better understand human behavior toward both ourselves and our environment The woodsmen and their Amerindian partners occupy the intriguing position of contributing to both damage and greater acceptance of the cultural Other the latter of which holds the promise of collaboration and joint searches for sustainable solutions Thus coureurs de bois and voyageurs far from perfect models can continue to serve as guides today
