Adoption Philosophy

Adoption Philosophy

- 1. Adoption is a process, not a product. It is a journey, not a destination. It is a process that involves many steps, from finding the right plant to caring for it. It is a process that is unique to each person and each plant.
- 2. Adoption is a relationship, not a transaction. It is a relationship that is built on trust, respect, and care. It is a relationship that is based on the understanding that each plant has its own needs and personality.
- 3. Adoption is a commitment, not a whim. It is a commitment to the well-being of the plant and to the health of the ecosystem. It is a commitment to the understanding that each plant is a part of a larger whole.
- 4. Adoption is a responsibility, not a privilege. It is a responsibility to care for the plant and to ensure that it has the best possible chance of thriving. It is a responsibility to the community and to the environment.
- 5. Adoption is a joy, not a burden. It is a joy to see a plant grow and to know that it is part of something bigger. It is a joy to know that each plant has its own story to tell.
- 6. Adoption is a gift, not a loss. It is a gift to the plant and to the ecosystem. It is a gift to the community and to the world.
- 7. Adoption is a love, not a duty. It is a love for the plant and for the life it represents. It is a love for the beauty and the wonder of the natural world.
