Emmanuelle Tulle

Aging And Old Age:

Aging and Old Age Richard A. Posner, 1995 Observing that people change both physically and cognitively as they age Posner suggests that each of us has in succession two separate selves younger and older with different abilities interests and behaviors an insight that helps clarify a number of issues concerning the elderly Aging and Old Age Sheila C.

McKenzie, 1980 Old Age and Agency Emmanuelle Tulle, 2004 This book is about rethinking the ways in which we make sense of social action or agency in later life The contributions in this collection challenge traditional academic approaches to the study of later life which arguably often deny older people agency Social gerontology and the wider society should be more reflexive and rather than contribute to the continued marginalisation of older people should draw attention to the extent to which the latter's actions may be understood within the set of normalising discourses which people have to manage and negotiate as they get old The purpose of this collection is to continue this process by providing philosophical theoretical conceptual and empirical direction for a reflexive social gerontology This book argues that the management of later life has become complex caught as it is within a broad discourse which continues to construct old age as a time of decline and dependency but has shifted the burden of responsibility for the avoidance of decline on individuals Cultural Perspectives on Aging Andrea Hülsen-Esch, 2021-11-22 Current demographic developments and change due to long life expectancies low birth rates changing family structures and economic and political crises causing migration and flight are having a significant impact on intergenerational relationships the social welfare system the job market and what elderly people can expect from their retirement and environment The socio political relevance of the categories of age and ageing have been increasing and gaining much attention within different scholarly fields However none of the efforts to identify age related diseases or the processes of ageing in order to develop suitable strategies for prevention and therapy have had any effect on the fact that attitudes against the elderly are based on patterns that are determined by parameters that or not biological or sociological age ing is also a cultural fact This book reveals the importance of cultural factors in order to build a framework for analyzing and understanding cultural constructions of ageing bringing together scholarly discourses from the arts and humanities as well as social medical and psychological fields of study The contributions pave the way for new strategies of caring for elderly people Preparation for Aging E. Heikkinen, J. Kuusinen, I. Ruoppila, 2012-12-06 Full of valuable definitions descriptions discussion and succinct summaries the volume forms an interesting up to date reservoir of information on preparation for aging As a source of specific insights and alternative perspectives it is a welcome addition to the literature Aging and Society Old Age on the New Scene Robert Kastenbaum, 1981 Old Age in Modern Society Christina R. Victor, 2013-11-11 Old age is a part of the lifecycle about which there are numerous myths and stereotypes To present an overstatement of commonly held beliefs the old are portrayed as dependent individuals characterized by a lack of social autonomy unloved and neglected by both their immediate family and friends and posing a threat to the living standards of younger age groups by being a burden that consumes without producing Older people are perceived as a single homogeneous group and the experiment of ageing characterized as being the same for all individuals irrespective of the diversity of their circumstances before the onset of old age In this book detailed statistical material is used to portray the circumstances of older people in modern society in an attempt to evaluate the appropriateness or otherwise of the major stereotypes of later life This volume does not address ageing from a psychological or micro social perspective In particular we do not explore major issues relating to old age Rather we feel that from the extensive collection of surveys concerned with the elderly we can provide a context within which individual elderly people can be studied from more anthropological or biographical perspectives

New Perspectives on Old Age Hans Thomae, George L. Maddox, 1982 Public Health and Aging Steven Mark Albert, Vicki A. Freedman, PhD, 2010 Print CourseSmart Ageing and Human Nature Mark Schweda, Michael Coors, Claudia Bozzaro, 2020-01-11 This book focuses on ageing as a topic of philosophical theological and historical anthropology It provides a systematic inventory of fundamental theoretical questions and assumptions involved in the discussion of ageing and old age What does it mean for human beings to grow old and become more vulnerable and dependent How can we understand the manifestations of ageing and old age in the human body How should we interpret the processes of change in the temporal course of a human life What impact does old age have on the social dimensions of human existence In order to tackle these questions the volume brings together internationally distinguished scholars from the fields of philosophy theology cultural studies social gerontology and ageing studies The collection of their original articles makes a twofold contribution to contemporary academic discourse On one hand it helps to clarify and deepen our understanding of ageing and old age by examining it from the fundamental point of view of philosophical theological and historical anthropology At the same time it also enhances and expands the discourses of philosophical theological and historical anthropology by systematically taking into account that human beings are essentially ageing creatures
