Hell's Traces Victor Ripp, 2025-09-23 In July 1942 the French police in Paris acting for the German military government arrested Victor Ripp's three-year-old cousin Alexandre. Two months later the boy was killed in Auschwitz. In Hell's Traces Ripp examines this act through the prism of family history. In addition to Alexandre, ten members of Ripp's family on his father's side died in the Holocaust. His mother's side of the family, numbering thirty people, was in Berlin when Hitler came to power. Without exception, they escaped the Final Solution. Hell's Traces tells the story of the two families' divergent paths. To spark the past to life, he embarks on a journey to visit Holocaust memorials throughout Europe. Could a stone pillar or a bronze plaque or whatever else constitutes a memorial, he asks, cause events that took place more than seven decades ago to appear vivid? A memorial in Warsaw that includes a boxcar like the ones that carried Jews to Auschwitz compels Ripp to contemplate the horror of Alexandre's transport to his death. One in Berlin that invokes the anti-Jewish laws of the 1930s allows him to better understand how his mother's family escaped the Nazis. In Paris, he stumbles across a playground dedicated to the memory of the French children who were deported, Alexandre among them. Ultimately, Ripp sees thirty-five memorials in six countries. He encounters the artists who designed the memorials, historians who recall the events that are memorialized, and survivors with their own stories to tell. Resolutely unsentimental, Hell's Traces is structured like a travelogue in which each destination enables a reckoning with the past.

A Terrifying Brush with Optimism Brian Leung, 2025-05-13 A collection of new and selected works from Lambda Literary Award and Asian American Literary Award winner Brian Leung. In a cultural moment where folks are stripped of their dignity or shed it willingly, the figures in this book wonder at the utility of maintaining their own. There's a touch of Hamlet's question in there along with some I Ching. Can monkeys pray? Are we better off living in the real world or a speculative one? Through an essay, a novella, and short and flash fiction pieces, A Terrifying Brush with Optimism is at once leaping, thoughtful, diverse, comic, and brooding.

The Story of My Mind M. M. Mangasarian, 2020-08-15 Reproduction of the original The Story of My Mind by M. M. Mangasarian.

The Story Paradox Jonathan Gottschall, 2021-11-23 Storytelling, a tradition that built human civilization, may soon destroy it. Humans are storytelling animals. Stories are what make our societies possible. Countless books celebrate their virtues. But Jonathan Gottschall, an expert on the science of stories, argues that there is a dark side to storytelling: we can no longer ignore it. Storytelling, the very tradition that built human civilization, may be the thing that destroys it. In The Story Paradox, Gottschall explores how a broad consortium of psychologists, communications specialists, neuroscientists, and literary quants are using the scientific method to study how stories affect our brains. The results challenge the idea that storytelling is an obvious force for good in human life. Yes, storytelling can bind groups together, but it is also the main force dragging people apart. And it's the best method we've ever devised for manipulating each other by circumventing rational thought. Behind all civilization's greatest ills: environmental destruction, runaway demagogues, warfare, you will always find the same master factor: a mind disordering story. Gottschall argues that societies succeed or fail depending on how they manage these tensions. And it has only become harder as new technologies that amplify the effects of disinformation campaigns, conspiracy theories, and fake news make separating fact from fiction nearly impossible. With clarity and conviction, Gottschall reveals why our biggest asset has become our greatest threat and what, if anything, can be done. It is a call to stop asking, "How can we change the world through stories?" and start asking, "How can we save the world from stories?" Cracking the Kube Filippo Ulivieri, 2024-12-15

Maestro, Genius, Legend, Respected, Celebrated, Worshipped: Stanley Kubrick is one of the most famous and discussed filmmakers, yet much about his work remains mysterious. For the past twenty years, Filippo Ulivieri has interviewed Kubrick's closest collaborators and associates, gathering firsthand accounts of his films' creation and the director's personality. He has also delved into archives, uncovering production documents, memos, correspondence, and never-before-seen material. This collection features Ulivieri's most up-to-date research, challenging myths, misconceptions, clichés, and false theories about Stanley Kubrick's life and films. Think you know Kubrick? Think again. CHARLES DICKENS - The Complete Short Stories: 190+ Christmas Tales, Social Sketches, Tales for Children & Other Stories (Illustrated) Charles Dickens, 2024-01-15
