A Wealth Of History 150 Years With Phoenix:

Phoenix cities Power, Anne, Plöger, Jörg, 2010-03-16 Weak market cities across European and America or core cities as they were in their heyday went from being industrial giants dominating their national and eventually the global economy to being devastation zones In a single generation three quarters of all manufacturing jobs disappeared leaving dislocated impoverished communities run down city centres and a massive population exodus So how did Europeans react And how different was their response from America s This book looks closely at the recovery trajectories of seven European cities from very different regions of the EU Their dramatic decline intense recovery efforts and actual progress on the ground underline the significance of public underpinning in times of crisis Innovative enterprises new style city leadership special neighbourhood programmes and skills development are all explored The American experience where cities were largely left to their own devices produced a slower more uncertain recovery trajectory This book will provide much that is original and promising to all those wanting to understand the ground level realities of urban change and progress A Wealth of History

Material Powers Tony Bennett, Patrick Joyce, 2013-05-13 This edited collection is a major contribution to the current development of a material turn in the social sciences and humanities It does so by exploring new understandings of how power is made up and exercised by examining the role of material infrastructures in the organization of state power and the role of material cultural practices in the organization of colonial forms of governance A diverse range of historical examples is drawn on in illustrating these concerns from the role of territorial engineering projects in seventeenth century France through the development of the postal system in nineteenth century Britain to the relations between the state and road building in contemporary Peru for example The colonial contexts examined are similarly varied ranging from the role of photographic practices in the constitution of colonial power in India and the measurement of the bodies of the colonized in French colonial practices to the part played by the relations between museums and expeditions in the organization of Australian forms of colonial rule These specific concerns are connected to major critical re examination of the limits of the earlier formulations of cultural materialism and the logic of the cultural turn The collection brings together a group of key international scholars whose work has played a leading role in debates in and across the fields of history visual culture studies anthropology geography cultural studies museum studies and literary studies
