Blairism And The War Of Persuasion Labours Passive Revolution:

Blairism and the War of Persuasion Deborah Lynn Steinberg, Richard Johnson, 2004 Tony Blair's use of the state to impose and manage the United Kingdom's global and individual identities which not only defines New Labour but is doctrine in its own right is analyzed in this look at the Contemporary Labour Party Compared to Margaret Thatcher's market led policies driven by social authoritarianism Blairism is a political construct that persuades with hopes of social progressivism while maintaining the necessary disciplines of global capital Showing how Blairism invites trust and advocates dialogue but hollows out party democracy to pursue pre set objectives this critique clarifies Blair's agenda in order to contest its forms of passive revolution with active construction of alternatives Gramsci and Global Politics Mark McNally, John Schwarzmantel, 2009-03-09 This book explains and assesses the relevance of the ideas of Gramsci It takes his core concepts and uses them to analyse features of present day politics and assess the extent to which his ideas can aid the understanding of the contemporary political world Blair's Educational Legacy A. Green, 2010-12-20 Providing an overview and Marxist assessment of Tony Blair and New Labour's UK education policies structures and processes the contributors in this exciting new collection discuss specific aspects of education policy and practices The Practice of Cultural Studies Richard Johnson, Deborah Chambers, Parvati Raghuram, Estella Tincknell, 2004-04-14 This is a tour de force It combines luminous discussion of the core conceptual issues of cultural studies with a hard headed practical sense of how research in the field gets done The result is a seriously smart comprehensive survey of the whole terrain of cultural studies itself This is a book on methods which readers will be able to make their own and which uniquely in the genre will keep them buzzing Bill Schwarz Queen Mary University of London The Practice of Cultural Studies is an original introduction to the field It offers a sophisticated how to guide to doing research in cultural studies From the difficulties of formulating a problem to the unique articulations of specific methodologies in cultural studies students will find this book both useful and challenging Professor Lawrence Grossberg University of North Carolina What is distinctive about cultural research How does one do Cultural Studies Unlike many other disciplines cultural studies has not been explicit about the nature of its practice This book aims to redress the balance in favour of those who are studying culture by providing a comprehensive guide to researching and writing Based on the methods course at Nottingham Trent and addressed to advanced undergraduates Masters Level students and those just commencing a PhD this book aims to provide an overview of specific research traditions in cultural studies whilst also situating those traditions in their historical context The Practice of Cultural Studies Identifies the main methods of researching culture Demonstrates how theory can inform and enable the practice of research Explores the ways in which research practices and methods both produce and are produced by knowledge Looks at the implications of the cultural turn for disciplines other than cultural studies The Practice of Cultural Studies will be an essential text for students of cultural studies and a useful guide to others studying culture in a range of disciplinary contexts across the humanities and social sciences From Civil Partnership to Same-Sex Marriage Nicola Barker, Daniel Monk, 2015-04-17 The Civil Partnership Act 2004 and the Marriage Same Sex Couples Act 2013 are important legal social and historical landmarks rich in symbolic material and cultural meanings While fiercely opposed by many within mainstream narratives they are often represented as a victory in a legal reform process that commenced with the decriminalisation of homosexuality Yet at the same time for others they represent a problematic and ambivalent political engagement with the institution of marriage Consequently understood or labelled as revolutionary progressive and conservative these legal reforms provide a space for thinking about issues that arguably affect everyone regardless of sexual orientation or relationship status This edited collection brings together scholars and commentators from a range of backgrounds generations and disciplines to reflect on the first ten years of civil partnerships and the introduction of same sex marriage Rather than rehearsing the arguments for and against relationship recognition the essays ask original questions draw on a variety of methods and collectively provide a detailed and reflective snap shot of a critical moment a history of the present as well as providing a foundation for innovative ways of thinking about and engaging with the possibilities and experiences arising from the new reality of relationship recognition for gays and lesbians Publics, Politics and Power Janet Newman, John Clarke, 2009-01-22 Very stimulating and intellectually exciting In fact I think it is one of the best books I have read for a long time Professor Carsten Greve International centre for Business and Politics at the Copenhagen Business School Publicness appears to be in decline or retreat in the face of markets consumerism and individualism Yet questions of public participation public governance and the reform of public services are at the top of the political agenda in many countries Publics Politics and Power offers an innovative analysis of the changing fortunes of publicness The book Explores the emergence of new forms sites and practices of publicness and the implications for public services Examines the remaking of the public in the context of new formations of the nation where issues of migration diversity and faith challenge traditional forms of solidarity and citizenship Traces the emergence of hybrid organizational forms and new strategies for governing publics and public services Assesses some of the ways in which the public domain is being recast around notions of civil society community and populist participatory politics Chapters include vignettes illustrating the book s core concepts making this a useful teaching resource and valuable reading for students of public management public and social policy sociology and cultural studies and for those working in public services Janet Newman is a Professor of Social Policy at the Open University and Director of the Publics Research Programme within the Centre for Citizenship Identities and Governance John Clarke is a Professor of Social Policy at the Open University His research has centred on conflicts over the future of welfare states public services and citizenship in the UK and elsewhere Social Work on Trial Ian Butler, Mark Drakeford, 2012 This book describes the local and national politics professional concerns and public interest that surrounded the inquiry following the death of Maria Colwell in 1973 Representing Communities Ruth Sanz Sabido, 2017-10-12 This edited collection offers the latest research into the reproduction of hegemonic discourse and the ways in which the description and evaluation of social groups affects their ability to exercise cultural and political autonomy The book examines the representations of a number of communities and social groups both within their micro contexts and with reference to the economic political social cultural and technological macro contexts in which they are embedded The analysis highlights the connections between discourse power dominance and social inequality focusing on patriarchal capitalist and postcolonial representations and power imbalances Based on a combination of theoretical and empirical analyses the collection offers an array of macro social critiques based on the analysis and critical understanding of contemporary contexts and representations and how they contribute to political social economic and cultural practices

Critical Interventions in the Ethics of Healthcare Dave Holmes, 2016-04-22 Critical Interventions in the Ethics of Healthcare argues that traditional modes of bioethics are proving incommensurable with burgeoning biotechnologies and consequently emerging subjectivities Drawn from diverse disciplines this volume works toward a new mode of discourse in bioethics offering a critique of the current norms and constraints under which Western healthcare operates The contributions imagine new less paternalistic terms by which bioethics might proceed terms that do not resort to exclusively Western models of liberal humanism or to the logic of neoliberal economies It is argued that in this way we can begin to develop an ethical vocabulary that does justice to the challenges of our age Bringing together theorists practitioners and clinicians to present a wide variety of related disciplinary concerns and perspectives on bioethics this volume challenges the underlying assumptions that continue to hold sway in the ethics of medicine and health sciences

CCCS Selected Working Papers Ann Gray, Jan Campbell, Mark Erickson, Stuart Hanson, Helen Wood, 2007-11-07 This collection of classic essays focuses on the theoretical frameworks that informed the work of the Centre for Contemporary Cultural Studies at the University of Birmingham the methodologies and working practices that the Centre developed for conducting academic research and examples of the studies carried out under the auspices of the Centre This volume is split into seven thematic sections that are introduced by key academics working in the field of cultural studies and includes a preface by eminent scholar Stuart Hall The thematic sections are Literature and Society Popular Culture and Youth Subculture Media Women's Studies and Feminism Race History Education and Work
