Altruism And Christian Ethics:

Altruism and Christian Ethics Colin Grant,2000-11-16 Separated from its anchorage in religion ethics has followed the social sciences in seeing human beings as fundamentally characterised by self interest so that altruism is either naively idealistic or arrogantly self sufficient Colin Grant contends that as a modern secular concept altruism is a parody on the self giving love of Christianity so that its dismissal represents a social levelling that loses the depths that theology makes intelligible and religion makes possible The Christian affirmation is that God is characterised by self giving love agape then expected of Christians Lacking this theological background the focus on self interest in sociobiology and economics and on human realism in the political focus of John Rawls or the feminist sociability of Carol Gilligan finds altruism naive or a dangerous distraction from real possibilities of mutual support This book argues that to dispense with altruism is to dispense with God and with the divine transformation of human possibilities Patterns of Care Eva-Lotta Grantén,2003 Selfish Genes and Christian Ethics Neil Messer,2007-03-30 The evolutionary origins of human beings and in particular the origins of human morality have always attracted debate and speculation not just in the academic community but in popular science and the wider general population as well The arguments and explanations put forward over the years seem to thoroughly catch the popular imagination but there is the danger that these explanations tend to step outside the bounds of scientific theory and become powerful popular myths instead In Neil Messer s Selfish Genes and Christian Ethics the author is challenging this tendency Instead he provides a Christian theological anthropology which among other things aims to give Christians and the churches the confidence to engage with assumptions that evolutionary theory and religious beliefs are untenable This is a valuable resource for anyone engaged in the study of theology providing the reader with the ability to consider both the theoretical and the practical questions raised by evolutionary discussions of ethics and morality Compassionate Love and Ebony Grace Kortright Davis,2012-03-22 Why is the Golden Rule so central in almost every culture and religion What is it that drives human beings to do good to others Are altruism compassion and forgiveness natural forms of human behavior or do they have to be learned and practiced in the neural context of our primal instincts for survival and self defense These are some of the questions that lie behind the study of Compassionate Love amongst people of color Davis explores the patterns and contours of other love which he defines as a selfless regard for the well being of others He also examines the basis for distinctive modes of compassionate behavior enriched by ebony grace a theological attribution for people of African descent This text focuses especially on the historical cultural and religious heritage that inspires and empowers such attitudes in spite of constant encounters with systemic negation social alienation and unrelenting racism How is it that Black families in the home school and church still support sustain and succeed in the practice of unyielding love in compassion That is the magic and mystery within contemporary Black cultural norms and moral values This text is a powerful attempt to contribute to the debate on Christian altruism Human Dependency and Christian Ethics Sandra Sullivan-Dunbar,2017-10-05 This book engages Christian love theologies feminist economics and political theory to identify elements of a Christian ethic of dependent care relations Christian Ethics and the Moral Psychologies Don S. Browning, 2006-05-17 Interest in psychology permeates our culture with psychological solutions advanced for a host of moral dilemmas How should ethically minded Christians include insights from such disciplines as psychoanalysis cognitive moral development and neuroscience in their theological reflection Don Browning offers a serious proposal for combining these disciplines with the best in ethical reflection from a Christian standpoint Along the way he introduces readers to the moral psychology work of Sigmund Freud Carol Gilligan Antonio Damasio and others opening up a dialogue between their work and the hermeneutics of Hans Georg Gadamer and Paul Ricoeur Browning also recognizes the potential limits of the conversation between Christian ethics and the moral psychologies pointing out where they must diverge Effective Altruism and Religion Dominic Roser, Stefan Riedener, Markus Huppenbauer, 2022 Effective altruism has become a worldwide phenomenon The movement combines empathy and reason in the attempt to improve the world Adherents don't let moral gut instincts dictate their altruistic efforts but use evidence and reflection to do the most good they can Effective altruism originated and primarily grew in strongly secular environments such as philosophy departments or Silicon Valley So far a religious perspective on this movement has been lacking What can people of faith learn from effective altruism What may they criticise What can effective altruism in turn take from religion This volume offers a first examination of these questions covering various Christian as well as Jewish and Buddhist perspectives Back cover Moral Passion and Christian Ethics Robin Gill, 2017-03-06 In this book Robin Gill argues that moral passion and rational ethical deliberation are not enemies and that moral passion often lurks behind many apparently rational ethical commitments He also contends that though moral passion is a key component of truly selfless moral action without rational ethical deliberation it can also be extremely dangerous Gill maintains that a reanalysis of moral passion is overdue He inspects the gap between the purely rational accounts of ethics provided by some moral philosophers and the normative positions that they espouse and or the moral actions that they pursue He also contends that Christian ethicists have not been adept at identifying their own implicit moral passion or at explaining why it is that doctrinal positions generate passionately held moral conclusions Using a range of disciplines including cognitive science and moral psychology alongside the more usual disciplines of moral philosophy and religious ethics Gill also makes links with moral passion in other world faith traditions The Evolution of Altruism and the Ordering of Love Stephen J. Pope, 1995-04-01 In this book Stephen J Pope argues that contemporary scientifically based theories of the evolution of altruism provide important insights into one of the fundamental moral problems of Christian ethics the natural basis of love and its ordering He explores the contributions evolutionary theory makes to our understanding of the biological foundations of kin preference and reciprocal care the limits of love and the need for an ordering of love issues relevant to any ethic that accords a central role to the deeply natural affections found in friendship marriage and the family He proposes that understanding human nature in its broader evolutionary context brings to ethics a needed balance between the personal and biological dimensions of human nature In the context of Catholic ethics Pope points out functional similarities between Thomas Aquinas s use of then available scientific theories in his interpretation of the natural basis of primary relationships and Pope s own efforts to avoid the deficiencies that characterize contemporary Catholic interpretations of love based on personalism and existentialism He concludes with a call for a multidimensional interpretation of love one that incorporates scientifically based theories about human nature together with an appreciation of the significance of motives intentions and freedom for the ordering of human affections and moral responsibility This book will be of interest to moral theologians especially those concerned with the topics of love justice and natural law ethics New Dictionary of Christian Ethics & Pastoral Theology David J. Atkinson,David F. Field,Arthur F. Holmes,Oliver O'Donovan,2013-11-21 Encompassing a wide range of topics from the timely health care and business ethics to the traditional atonement suffering and the kingdom of God this work features an easy to use reference system and eighteen articles that introduce readers to key themes in moral pastoral and practical theology Edited by David J Atkinson and David F Field with consulting editors Arthur Holmes and Oliver O Donovan
