Being All Equal Identity Difference And Australian Cultural Practice:

Being All Equal Judith Kapferer, 2020-08-18 Is there such a thing as an Australian national identity Or is Australia just a melting pot of different peoples and cultures without a common culture What is distinctive and what is universal about everyday life in Australia In a post colonial age of globalizing economies the political quest for national identity is increasingly urgent This topical book traces the ways in which the Australian state and its people struggle to represent the social and cultural practices of everyday life in an attempt to draw meaning from diverse understandings of pasts presents and futures Class gender and ethnicity are shown to underpin this popular debate fuelled by shifting interpretations of egalitarianism and individualism The author a prominent Australian sociologist investigates how a nation's identity is created through its folk heroes and folk festivals civic and domestic architecture education politics and art Ned Kelly Parliament House the Melbourne Cup and the Adelaide Grand Prix are all interrogated for the light they shed on Australian ideologies and institutions This book will be fascinating reading for those who seek a deeper understanding of how a national identity can be moulded and redefined

The State and the Arts Judith Kapferer, 2008-08-01 Judith Kapferer and her collaborators present an insightful volume that interrogates relations between the state and the arts in diverse national and cultural settings The authors critique the taken for granted assumption about the place of the arts in liberal or social democratic states and the role of the arts in supporting or opposing the ideological work of government and non government institutions This innovative volume explores the challenges posed by the state to the arts and by the arts to the state focusing on several transformations of the interrelations between state and commercial arts policies in the current era These ongoing challenges include the control of repressive tolerance complicity with and resistance to state power and the commoditization of the arts including their accommodation to market and state apparatuses While endeavouring to avoid the currently dominant pragmatic and didactic priorities of officialdom the contributors tackle social and cultural policy and practice in the arts as well as connections between national states and dissenting art from a range of genres

Crossing Boundaries Sandy Toussaint, 2004 Ever since the 1992 Mabo decision put an end to the legal fiction that Australia was without owners before the arrival of the British colonisers the work associated with resolving native title claims has developed as a significant but often difficult arena of professional practice Increasingly anthropologists linguists historians and lawyers have been encouraged to work collaboratively often in the context of highly charged public controversy about who owns the land In Crossing Boundaries editor Sandy Toussaint and her contributors have created a cross disciplinary exploration of native title work In all twenty professionals share their experience and expertise As Toussaint concludes Chapters in this volume reveal the extent to which native title workers need to communicate more cogently and in some cases to redefine their practice Peter Carey Bruce Woodcock,2003 Peter Carey is one of the most respected novelists writing today Since the original edition of this book Carey s fiction has reached a far wider international audience he has won the Booker Prize for the second time with True History of the Kelly Gang while Oscar and Lucinda has been made into a successful feature film Bruce Woodcock s revised and expanded critical study now includes detailed readings of the recent novels Jack Maggs and True History of the Kelly Gang seeing them as the finest productions of a writer who continues to surprise and delight his readers with inventive creations and unique imagination Complementary Medicine in Australia and New Zealand Hans Baer,2015-07-17 In the late nineteenth century on the eve of the formation of Australia as a nation state in 1902 the Australian medical system could be best described as a pluralistic one in the sense that while regular medicine constituted the predominant medical system it was not clearly the dominant one in that regular physicians faced competition from a wide array of alternative practitioners As regular medicine increasingly assumed the guise of being scientific it evolved into biomedicine and developed a link with corporate and state interests in the early twentieth century in Australia as in other capitalist developed societies Relying upon state support Australian biomedicine has achieved dominance over alternative medical system such as homeopathy herbal medicine osteopathy chiropractic and naturopathy Various social forces particularly the development of the holistic health movement have served to challenge biomedical dominance in Australia like elsewhere What started out as a popular health movement in the early 1970s has evolved into the professionalized entity that is generally referred to as complementary medicine in Australia as opposed to complementary and alternative medicine in the US and UK Complementary medicine in Australia encompasses many medical systems and therapies Since the 1980s certain heterodox medical systems particularly chiropractic osteopathy acupuncture and Chinese medicine naturopathy Western herbalism and homeopathy have achieved considerable recognition from the Australian state either at the federal level or at the state and territorial levels Indeed the Australian state appears to have gone further than any other Anglophone country in terms of providing public funding for complementary medicine education Conversely it has committed a limited amount of funding for complementary medicine research compared to the United States Visitor Encounters with the Great Barrier Reef Celmara Pocock,2019-08-20 Visitor Encounters with the Great Barrier Reef explores how visitor encounters have shaped the history and heritage of the Reef Moving beyond the visual aesthetic significance the book highlights the importance of multi sensuous experiences in understanding the region as a UNESCO World Heritage Site Drawing on archival and ethnographic research the book describes how visitors have experienced the Great Barrier Reef through personal embodied encounters and the mechanisms they have used to understand access and share these experiences with others Illustrating how such experiences contribute to a knowledge of place Pocock also explores the vital role of reproduction and photography in sharing experiences with those who have never been there The second part of the book analyses visitor experiences and demonstrates how they underpin three key frames through which the Reef is understood and valued the islands as paradise the underwater coral gardens and the singular Great Barrier Reef Acknowledging that these constructs are increasingly removed from human experience Pocock demonstrates that they are nevertheless integral to recognition of the region as a World Heritage Site Demonstrating how experiences of the Reef have changed over time Visitor Encounters with the Great Barrier Reef should be of interest to academics and students working in the fields of heritage studies history and tourism It should also be of interest to heritage practitioners working around the globe

Gender, Race and National Identity Jackie Hogan, 2008-08-18 All nations construct stories of national belonging stories of the nation s character its accomplishments its defining traits its historical trajectory These stories or discourses of national identity carry powerful messages about gender and race messages that reflect reproduce and occasionally challenge social hierarchies Gender Race and National Identity examines links between gender race and national identity in the US UK Australia and Japan The book takes an innovative approach to national identity by analyzing a range of ephemeral and pop cultural texts from Olympic opening ceremonies to television advertisements letters to the editor broadsheet war coverage travel brochures museums and living history tourist venues Its rich empirical detail and systematic cross national comparisons allow for a fuller theorization of national identity

Modernity and Meaning in Victorian London Joseph De Sapio, 2014-06-11 Joseph De Sapio examines how individuals not only understood their contacts with industrial modernity as distinct from the inherited traditional rhythms of the eighteenth century but how they conceived of their own positions within the increasingly sophisticated political social and commercial paradigms of the Victorian years

Performing Place, Practising Memories Rosita Henry, 2012-09-15 During the 1970s a wave of counter culture people moved into rural communities in many parts of Australia This study focuses in particular on the town of Kuranda in North Queensland and the relationship between the settlers and the local Aboriginal population concentrating on a number of linked social dramas that portrayed the use of both public and private space Through their public performances and in their everyday spatial encounters these people resisted the bureaucratic state but in the process they also contributed to the cultivation and propagation of state effects
