Conceptualising Community D. Studdert, 2005-12-06 Community is the dark shadow of sociology an issue around which sociologists always duck and dive This book examines the reasons for this reticence through an exegesis of contemporary debates Additionally it utilizes the work of Hannah Arendt to propose an alternative anti mechanistic and anti essentialist approach to community and sociality an approach that not only moves beyond Foucault and his oppositional work but also offers perhaps the basis for a different approach to politics

Resilience in Childhood Erica Joslyn, 2015-12-01 With an emphasis on promoting self reliance autonomy and independence this exciting new book provides a contemporary and holistic analysis of the childhood resilience It recognises resilience in childhood as a complex construct critically deconstructs it by drawing upon a wide range of academic disciplines and practices and provides an account of the factors that help and hinder the development of resilience during childhood and adolescence Part I unpacks definitions of resilience and its construction over the last 50 years Part II examines psychological sociological and neurobiological perspectives that contribute to our understanding of how childhood resilience can be developed and fostered Part III explores strategies and approaches relating theory to current intervention practice and policy drivers Application to professional practice within a multi agency context is explored throughout Importantly this book seeks to develop the notion of the promise of resilience and establish the bond between capabilities built up in childhood and the promise of a positive successful future Efforts to foster and build effective skills that lead to resilience will result in long lasting abilities to positively navigate through life s challenges and to become the key architect of one s own success in later life
