Berlin In Focus:

Reading War, Making Memory Tea Sindbæk Andersen, Jessica Ortner, Fedja Wierød Borčak, 2025-11 A clarifying analysis of how authors from Bosnia Herzegovina translate and transmit the memory of the Bosnian War into their fiction Reading War Making Memory spotlights a vital new framework for understanding the impact of conflict upon diasporic literature from the region of the former Yugoslavia mnemonic migration

A Mind and its Time Joshua L. Cherniss, 2013-03-28 A Mind and its Time offers the most detailed account to date of the genesis and development of Isaiah Berlin's political thought philosophical views and historical understanding Drawing on both little known published material and archival sources it locates Berlin's evolving intellectual interests and political positions in the context of the events and trends of interwar and post war intellectual and political life Special emphasis is placed on the roots of Berlin's later pluralism in philosophical and cultural debates of the interwar period his concern with the relationship between ethics and political conduct and his evolving account of liberty Berlin's distinctive liberalism is shown to have been shaped by his response to the cultural politics of interwar period and the political and ethical dilemmas of the early Cold War era and to what Berlin saw as a dangerous embrace of an elitist technocratic scientific and managerial intellectual and political stance by liberals themselves At the same time Berlin's attitude toward what he called positive liberty emerges as far more complicated and ambivalent than is often realized Joshua L. Cherniss reveals the multiplicity of Berlin's influences and interlocutors the shifts in his thinking and the striking consistency of his concerns and commitments In shedding new light on Berlin's thought and offering a better understanding of his place in the development of liberal thought in the twentieth century he makes fresh contributions both to understanding the intellectual history of the twentieth century and to discussions of liberty and liberalism in political theory

Europe Michael Zils, 2015-07-24 No detailed description available for Europe

Constructing Metropolitan Space Jill Simone Gross, Enrico Gualini, Lin Ye, 2018-12-07 There is little question today that processes of globalization affect national and local economies governance processes and conditions for economic competitiveness in the major urban regions of the world In most liberal democratic countries these processes are occurring according to a rationale which attempts to combine strategies of state supported development with increasing local regional governmental decentralization and autonomy Against this background the issue of metropolitan development is being redefined worldwide along with its institutional frameworks modes of governance policy instruments and spatial planning strategies The overarching assumption of this volume is that metropolitan space far from being consolidated as a policy object is currently being redefined and in some instances constructed and contested as a scale through a variety of policy practices related to spatial economic development objectives Through case studies drawn from across four continents the authors reveal a range of interesting cross national commonalities concerning the power that state actors situated at various spatial scales exert as agents in these processes This volume interrogates key research issues raised by these developments and is intended as a contribution to the establishment of a globally comparative analysis of the construction of metropolitan spaces and scales under conditions of globalization and neoliberalization The Camp, Housing, and the City Christian Sowa, 2024-01-05 In 2015 many camps were opened to accommodate newly arriving migrants in Berlin Christian Sowa studies this form of accommodation Moving beyond an exclusive focus on borders and migration he argues that camp accommodation must be thought of and studied as part of the urban context and as a specific form of housing The study provides an in depth case study discusses policy alternatives argues for housing for all instead of camps and contributes to bringing urban and migration studies into public discussion In times of new waves of migration the topic of migrant accommodation within urban environments remains highly relevant today Brandial '06 David Schlangen, Raquel Fernández, 2006 Liberal Perspectives on Inclusion Joseph Mintz, 2024-10-28 Providing a theoretical underpinning for the idea of inclusion within education this book recognizes the fundamental role political values play in our understanding of inclusion in the classroom providing a philosophical lens on the inherent tensions that exist within sociological perspectives on social justice equity and diversity Chapters address value tensions from the perspective of classical liberalism and the extent to which this can be reconciled with values pluralism and Berlin's notions of negative and positive liberty The book argues for a re framing of inclusion as a process of negotiation between teachers parents children and young people which involves a recognition of the complex tradeoffs involved in working with difference in the classroom These tensions are explored through a series of case studies of real world dilemmas in the classroom ultimately serving to highlight the ways in which varying political value positions including liberalism are inescapably embedded within the practice in education Considering topics such as decolonization of the curriculum freedom of speech and social justice this seminal volume will be highly relevant for researchers scholars and postgraduate students in the fields of inclusive education special educational needs philosophy of education social justice and education and critical theory The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license The MIT Encyclopedia of the Cognitive Sciences (MITECS) Robert A. cognitive sciences Isaiah Berlin George Crowder,2004-11-12 An accessible introduction to the ideas of Isaiah Berlin this work argues that Berlin s critique of the modern enemies of liberty is exciting and powerful but also that the coherence of his thought is threatened by a tension between its liberal and pluralist elements De/Constituting Wholes Manuele Gragnolati,Christoph F. E. Holzhey,2017-01-01 How can the power of wholes be resisted without essentializing their parts Drawing on different archives and methodologies including aesthetics history biology affect race and queer the interventions in this volume explore different ways of troubling the consistency and stability of wholes breaking up their closure and making them more dynamic Doing so without necessarily presupposing or producing parts an outside or a teleological development they indicate the critical potential of partiality without parts
