Building Security In The New States Of Eurasia:

Building Security in the New States of Eurasia Renata Dwan, Oleksandr Pavliuk, 2000 This pathbreaking study brings together international experts to consider security issues and the experience and potential for cooperation in the subregions of the former Soviet Union Appendices to the volume provide maps a guide to acronyms profiles of existing subregional organizations and a chronology of cooperative agreements signed in the region since 1991

Armed Forces and International Security Jean M. Callaghan, Franz Kernic, 2003 Designed as a textbook and interdisciplinary reference for the social sciences this volume examines key issues in the current global security agenda and relationships between armed forces and society around the world The book's concise chapters on a broad range of themes related to national and international security military sociology and civil military relations were written by experts from 18 countries This volume also has a groundbreaking section which using country studies and regional overviews discusses civil military relations in as well as the most salient theoretical and practical features of current means of democratic control of the armed forces in the early 21st century

The Security of the Caspian Sea Region Gennadii Illarionovich Chufrin, Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, 2001 Over the past decade the Caspian Sea region has risen from relative obscurity to considerable prominence in global affairs Located at the crossroads of traditional trade routes between Europe and Asia and possessing vast natural resources oil and natural gas among them it attracts widespread international interest The emergence of new sovereign states in the region has fundamentally transformed its political landscape The future of the Caspian region is far from certain however as it is challenged by a wide variety of political socio economic and military threats which include the declining living standards of vast segments of local populations inter ethnic and inter confessional tensions and conflicts militant separatism international terrorism and illegal trade in arms and drugs The security of the region is also affected by the intensifying strategic competition among major outside powers over establishing their political and economic influence in regional affairs The book offers a competent analysis of the major political economic and security developments in the region by a diverse group of highly qualified experts from the Caspian littoral states the USA and the European Union

The Dynamics of Black Sea Subregionalism Panagiota Manoli, 2016-03-23 Conflict and cooperation are two dynamics that have shaped the political economy and international relations around the Black Sea since the early nineties Despite the negative structural environment and the persistence of a high security dilemma cooperative efforts among Black Sea actors primarily state elites but increasingly non state actors have been advancing even though slowly Representing a new development in the study of contemporary regionalism Panagiota Manoli examines the process of institutionalized subregional cooperation and casts new light on the factors influencing the reconfiguration of subregional structures in the region Focusing on the primary initiative in the region Black Sea Economic Cooperation BSEC Manoli traces how subregionalism has evolved since the early nineties and what has been driving and conditioning this process Questioning whether there is a definitive nature to subregionalism Manoli then discusses Black Sea subregionalism within the European integration process examining the impact of the European Union Contributing to the conceptualization of the subregional phenomenon this book should be read by scholars and policy makers alike unclear on how local elements interface with extra regional forces in the shaping of a subregion

Vladimir Putin and the New World Order Joseph Laurence Black, 2004 J L Black's latest work is a rich and carefully crafted attempt to expose the textures of Russia's perceptions of itself and its place in the world Based almost entirely on Russian sources J L Black found himself returning to the old practice of citing and decoding feature items from the Russian press The difference between then and now of course is that at that time there was the struggle to read between the lines while now he reads and tries to digest the lines themselves the Russian press still provides a very good indication of prevailing moods within the political and military elite establishments of Moscow It is also still evident that if we are to understand Russian foreign policy making we must attempt to view international situations through the prism of Russian analysts and officials Only then can we draw conclusions based on both our and their perceptions of current events and visions for the future Vladimir Putin and the New World Order is divided into two parts The first is a chronologically organized story of Putin's efforts to find a niche for Russia in the world since his sudden appointment as acting president at the end of December 1999 Throughout Black places great emphasis on the sequence of events to illustrate important patterns for example Putin's tendency to make dramatic overtures to the East as preparation for negotiations with the West The book's second part focuses on Russia's attention to specific regions of the world and types of international activity These include individual countries such as China and Ukraine regions like Central Asia and the Caucasus integrative agencies including the CIS concepts and practices among them matters of security and military reform and the ambivalent Russian associations with so called rogue states

Energy, Wealth and Governance in the Caucasus and Central Asia Richard Auty, Indra de Soysa, 2006-08-21 Drawing upon recent progress in development economics and political science the book provides fresh analysis of the Caucasus and Central Asia CCA countries transition to a market economy by tracing the impact of natural resource endowment The book examines the synergies between energy rich and energy poor states and highlights the practical consequences of both well managed and poorly managed deployment of energy Featuring contributions from prominent specialists on resource driven economies the book argues that unless CCA elites change the way in which they deploy natural resource revenues regional development will fall short of its potential with possible disastrous consequences The contributors apply the experience of the developing market economies to demonstrate that the region still holds considerable potential to become an important stable supplier of raw materials and a source of industrial demand to the global economy However the CCA is equally likely to become a threat to the global economy as a consequence of the misuse of energy revenues to promote the interests of predatory political elites

Eurasia's Shifting Geopolitical Tectonic Plates Alexandros Petersen, 2017-07-18 This anthology of articles short studies and interviews by Alexandros Petersen was written over the span of ten years starting in 2004 Yet they are even more relevant today in their prescient analysis Petersen insightfully addressed the implications of the West withdrawing its engagement from the Caucasus and Central Asia the expansion of the Chinese influence and Russia's strategic interests The collection is organized along four main topics 1 Eurasia and a changing transatlantic world the world politics of shifting frontiers in the post Soviet world 2 Energy geopolitics in the Caspian and beyond with its crucial implications for European energy security 3 the Black Sea world covering the dynamics of Russia Turkey and the South Caucasus including the role of NATO and frozen conflicts in the region 4 the new silk roads China's inroads in Central Asia which is often overlooked in the West but will be critical for the geopolitical balance of powers

Reconstructing the Cold War Ted Hopf, 2012-04-12 The early years of the Cold War were marked by contradictions and conflict The turn from Stalin's discourse of danger to the discourse of difference under his successors explains the abrupt changes in relations with Eastern Europe China the decolonizing world and the West Societal constructivism provides the theoretical approach to make sense of this turbulent history

Integration in Energy and Transport Alexandros Petersen, 2016-06-16 The South Caucasus has established itself as a corridor for transporting energy from Azerbaijan to Georgia Turkey and on to Europe symbolized by the Baku Tbilisi Ceyhan oil pipeline This new infrastructure has created an east west Eurasian bridge in which transnational extra regional actors especially the European Union and international financial institutions have played a critical role This book offers an original exploration of integration in the energy and transport sectors amongst Azerbaijan Georgia and Turkey and the capacity of this to fundamentally change relations between these countries In the period studied from the mid 1990s to 2008 integration in energy and transport did not result in broader political security and sociocultural integration in any significant way The author sets his analysis in a theoretical framework drawing on theories of integration but also grounds it in the detailed empirical knowledge that is the measure of true expertise

Legal Aspects of the Regional Integration Processes in the Post-Soviet Area Zhenis Kembayev, 2009-02-03 Legal Aspects of the Regional Integration Processes in the Post Soviet Area is the first ever comprehensive overview of regional integration processes in the territory of the former USSR introducing the core concepts of regional integration theory and presenting a solid foundation of factual information regarding all the regional integration agreements RIAs operating in the Eurasian landmass and consisting of the former Soviet republics The book analyzes the legal nature and background of the regional integration in the framework of the Commonwealth of Independent States the Russian Belarusian Union the Single Economic Space the Eurasian Economic Community and the Collective Security Treaty Organization It also deals with the RIAs created outside of the Russian control in the format of GUAM and among Central Asian countries Finally the book contains conclusive remarks attempting to assess the possibility of the creation of an Eurasian Union
