Bonfire Of Berlin:

The Bonfire Of Berlin Helga Schneider, 2014-07-10 Abandoned by her mother who left to pursue a career as a camp guard at Auschwitz Birkenau loathed by her step mother cooped up in a cellar starved parched lonely amidst the fetid crush of her neighbours Helga Schneider endured the horrors of wartime Berlin The Bonfire of Berlin is a searing account of her survival The grinding misery of hunger combined with the terror of air raids the absence of fresh water and the constant threat of death and disease served not to unite the tenants and neighbours of her apartment block but rather to intensify the minor irritations of communal life into flashpoints of rage and violence And with Russian victory the survivors could not look forward a return to peacetime but rather to pillage and rape It was only gradually that Schneider's life returned to some kind of normality as her beloved father returned from the front carrying his own scars of the war This shocking book evokes the reality of life in a wartime city in all its brutality and deprivation while retaining a kernel of hope that while life remains not all is lost

Holocaust Museum Robert Fitterman, 2013-09-18 Holocaust Museum reframes the captions of holocaust photographs from the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington DC These captions without their photographic images are arranged loosely in the order or narrative constructed by the museum There are many purposes to this project but the genesis is in articulating a cultural shift from image to text The subject this particular holocaust was chosen because the images are shared in our collective memory by presenting only the text the reader is hopefully consigned into a more complicit experience

Book Destruction from the Medieval to the Contemporary G. Partington, A. Smyth, 2014-09-09 This rich and varied collection of essays by scholars and interviews with artists approaches the fraught topic of book

destruction from a new angle setting out an alternative history of the cutting burning pulping defacing and tearing of books from the medieval period to our own age The Post-War Trilogy Robert Ryan, 2018-10-30 Three post World War II adventure novels inspired by real events from an acclaimed British author who skillfully blends fact with fiction Time Out London After Midnight Ryan's novel based on a true story begins with a letter from Australian bomber pilot Bill Carr to his daughter on her first birthday in 1944 That same day he takes off on a mission over the mountains of Northern Italy and is never heard from again Twenty years later Lindy Carr arrives in Italy to find out what happened to her father Her guide is Jack Kirby a daredevil motorcycle racer and pilot who flew Mosquito fighters in the war and spent time among the Italian partisans What Jack and Lindy uncover in the Italian Alps will change both their lives forever Ryan's mastery of 1940s detail and his ability to discover intriguing but unvisited byways of the war can be taken for granted but the more recent storyline shows him equally adept at handling a 1960s setting The Sunday Times The Last Sunrise The real history of World War II's most daring fighter squadron is the inspiration for this riveting novel of adventure and romance in the Far East In 1941 Lee Crane was a Flying Tiger one of dozens of American pilots recruited to join the Chinese Air Force in the fight against the Japanese Wild in the air and on the ground the Tigers broke hearts all over Burma and Crane was no different until he fell in love with a stunning Anglo Indian widow But in the chaos of war Crane lost track of the woman of his dreams and spent the next seven years convincing himself it wasn't meant to be Now a chance encounter with another long lost beauty has him ready to plunge back into the past praying he will come up with a different answer this time The flying scenes are brilliantly handled Ryan's research is impressive Bold and successful The Sunday Times Dying Day In this Cold War spy thriller based on actual case files a woman is willing to do whatever it takes to bring her sister home In the darkest days of World War II Laura McGill and her sister Diana ventured behind enemy lines on behalf of Britain's Special Operations Executive Now it is 1948 four years since Diana disappeared inside occupied France and Laura has reached a point of desperation that leads her to kidnap the head clerk of the SOE at gunpoint to learn the name of the spy who ran her sister's last mission That spy James Hadley Webb will take Laura to the divided city of Berlin where he is waging a shadow war of influence and intrigue and losing Laura's arrival may be just what Webb needs to stop his agents from dying Thrilling post war espionage action Tatler

Desolation and Enlightenment Ira Katznelson, 2020-10-13 During and especially after World War II a group of leading scholars who had been perilously close to the war's devastation joined others fortunate enough to have been protected by distance in an effort to redefine and reinvigorate liberal ideals for a radically new age Treating evil as an analytical category they sought to discover the sources of twentieth century horror and the potentialities of the modern state in the wake of desolation In the process they devised strikingly new ways to understand politics sociology and history that reverberate still In this major intellectual history Ira Katznelson examines the works of Hannah Arendt Robert Dahl Richard Hofstadter Harold Lasswell Charles Lindblom Karl Polanyi and David Truman detailing their engagement with the larger project of reclaiming the West's moral bearing In light of their epoch's calamities these intellectuals insisted that the tradition of Enlightenment thought required a new realism a good deal of renovation and much recommitment This array of historians political philosophers and social scientists understood that a simple reassertion of liberal modernism had been made radically insufficient by the enormities and moral catastrophes of war totalitarianism and the Holocaust Confronting dashed hopes for reason and knowledge they asked not just whether the Enlightenment should define modernity but also which Enlightenment we should wish to have
