Peaceful Nuclear Exports and Weapons Proliferation United States. Congress. Senate. Government Operations,1975

International Law and Weapons Review Natalia Jevglevskaja,2021-12-16 International law requires that before any new weapon is developed purchased or modified the legality of its use must be determined This book offers the first comprehensive and systemic analysis of the law mandating such assessments Article 36 of the 1977 Additional Protocol I to the Geneva Conventions Underpinned by empirical research the book explores the challenges the weapons review authorities are facing when examining emerging military technology such as autonomous weapons systems and autonomous cyber capabilities It argues that Article 36 is sufficiently broad to cover a wide range of military systems and offers States the necessary flexibility to adopt a process that best suits their organisational demands While sending a clear signal that law should not simply follow technological developments but rather steer them the provision has its limits however which are shaped and defined by the interpretative decisions made by States

Moxley,2024-05-15 This book analyzes the facts and law as to nuclear weapons and the policy of deterrence It demonstrates that such weapons cannot lawfully be used and that the policy of deterrence is risky and unlawful It urges that the U S take the lead in delegitimizing these weapons and seeking abolition Report of the Royal Commission on Historical Manuscripts Great Britain. at risk Prior arms control agreements have moved humanity within striking distance of global prohibition yet these weapons of mass destruction remain This enlightening work discusses original principles for a treaty banning nuclear and chem bio weapons worldwide Mattis argues that a proposed new nuclear treaty replacing today's inadequate 1968 Non Proliferation Treaty would demand unanimous accession by States which must be achieved before such a treaty enters into force By asking essential questions and offering value creative proposals for nuclear treaty provisions this work offers a clear path to the daylight of worldwide weapons of mass destruction prohibition Not only is global safety threatened by the use of nuclear and chem bio weapons but more inclusively today society is at risk of nuclear weapons being stolen or acquired by terrorists for purposes of destruction This risk lends to a necessary treaty that would require down blending of highly enriched uranium to low enriched uranium to eliminate this prospect The heart of this work is its delineation of necessary elements for a nuclear ban treaty that addresses inevitable concerns of all States especially today's nine nuclear weapon States Mattis addresses 17 major proposed treaty provisions that include how to suitably ascertain unanimous accession by states to a nuclear ban treaty unanimity being a condition for entry into force requirement that states be signatories to the current chemical and biological weapons bans CWC BWC prior to signing a nuclear ban treaty non withdrawal by states from the treaty once it is in effect necessary and new verification elements for banning nuclear weapons the establishment via nuclear ban provision of non withdrawal from the CWC and BWC By asking essential questions and offering illuminating proposals for nuclear ban treaty provisions the work offers a path to a safer future through worldwide prohibition of weapons of mass destruction
