Beginnings Without End Sam Keen, 1977 The Classroom A. Block, 2014-10-02 What goes on in a classroom can mean Are teachers imparting knowledge that will raise test scores or it can mean much more In this series of essays Block addresses the nature of the classroom as a place for encounter and engagements with curriculum materials and books between teachers and students and with the self The Philosophy of Charlie Kaufman David LaRocca, 2011-05-27 From the Academy Award winning Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind 2004 and Academy Award nominated Adaptation 2002 to the cult classic Being John Malkovich 1999 writer Charlie Kaufman is widely admired for his innovative philosophically resonant films Although he only recently made his directorial debut with Synecdoche New York 2008 most fans and critics refer to Kaufman films the way they would otherwise discuss works by directors Woody Allen Martin Scorsese or the Coen brothers Not only has Kaufman transformed our sense of what can take place in a film but he also has made a significant impact on our understanding of the role of the screenwriter The Philosophy of Charlie Kaufman edited by David LaRocca is the first collection of essays devoted to a rigorous philosophical exploration of Kaufman's work by a team of capable and critical scholars from a wide range of disciplines From political theorists to philosophers classicists to theologians professors of literature to filmmakers the contributing authors delve into the heart of Kaufman's innovative screenplays offering not only original philosophical analyses but also extended reflections on the nature of film and film criticism Michael Carter, 2003

Worlds without End Mary-Jane Rubenstein, 2014-01-28 A religion professor elucidates the theory of the multiverse its history and its reception in science philosophy religion and literature Multiverse cosmologies imagine our universe as just one of a vast number of others Beginning with ancient Atomist and Stoic philosophies Mary Jane Rubenstein links contemporary models of the multiverse to their forerunners and explores the reasons for their recent appearance One concerns the so called fine tuning of the universe nature's constants are so delicately calibrated that it seems they have been set just right to allow life to emerge For some thinkers these fine tunings are evidence of the existence of God for others however and for most physicists God is an insufficient scientific explanation Hence the multiverse's allure if all possible worlds exist somewhere then like monkeys hammering out Shakespeare one universe is bound to be suitable for life Of course this hypothesis replaces God with an equally baffling article of faith the existence of universes beyond before or after our own eternally generated yet forever inaccessible to observation or experiment In their very efforts to sidestep metaphysics theoretical physicists propose multiverse scenarios that collide with it and even produce counter theological narratives Far from invalidating multiverse hypotheses Rubenstein argues this interdisciplinary collision actually secures their scientific viability We may therefore be witnessing a radical reconfiguration of physics philosophy and religion in the modern turn to the multiverse Rubenstein's witty thought provoking history of philosophy and physics leaves one in awe of just how close Thomas Aquinas and American physicist Steven Weinberg are in spirit as they seek ultimate answers

Publishers Weekly A fun mind stretching read clear and enlightening San Francisco Book Review The End of the World

Marcia Sa Cavalcante Schuback, Susanna Lindberg, 2017-03-29 The end of the world opens up philosophical questions concerning the very notion of the world which is a fundamental element of all existential phenomenological and hermeneutical philosophy Is the end of the world for us somebody's death the end of being in the world or the extinction of many or of all the end of the world itself Is the erosion of the world a phenomenon that does not in fact affect the notion of the world as a fundamental feature of all existential ontological inquiry This volume examines the present state of these concerns in philosophy film and literature It presents a philosophical hermeneutics of the present state of the world and explores the principal questions of the philosophical accounts of the end of the world such as finality and finitude It also shows how literature and cinema have ventured to express the end of the world while asking if a consequent expression of the end of the world is also an end of its expression

The Rotarian, 1967-04 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel Prize winners and 19 Pulitzer Prize winners from Mahatma Gandhi to Kurt Vonnegut Jr have written for the magazine Sartre, Foucault, and Historical Reason, Volume Two

Thomas R. Flynn, 2010-01-15 Sartre and Foucault were two of the most prominent and at times mutually antagonistic philosophical figures of the twentieth century And nowhere are the antithetical natures of their existentialist and poststructuralist philosophies more apparent than in their disparate approaches to historical understanding In Volume One of this authoritative two volume study Thomas R Flynn conducted a pivotal and comprehensive reconstruction of Sartrean historical theory This long awaited second volume offers a comprehensive and critical reading of the Foucauldian counterpoint A history theorized Foucault should be a kind of map a comprehensive charting of structural transformations and displacements over time Contrary to other Foucault scholars Flynn proposes an axial rather than a developmental reading of Foucault's work This allows aspects of Foucault's famous triad of knowledge power and the subject to emerge in each of his major works Flynn maps existentialist categories across Foucault's quadrilateral the model that Foucault proposes as defining modernist conceptions of knowledge At stake is the degree to which Sartre's thought is fully captured by this mapping whether he was as Foucault claimed a man of the nineteenth century trying to think in the twentieth

Transfiguring Time Olivier Clément, 2019-02-07 Clément's Transfiguring Time is an early work written when he was 37 It carries all the excitement of his fresh encounter with Orthodoxy and the Fathers of the Christian Church He draws on his deep study of Hinduism Buddhism and Indian myths to differentiate the understanding of time and eternity in archaic religions in Hinduism and in Buddhism from the Christian and specifically Orthodox understanding of time and eternity This new translation the first one in English wants to bring Clément's early work to a new generation of readers Novels
