Behind The Scenes An Autobiography:

Behind the Scenes Jack Mavrogordato, 1982 Consuming Autobiographies Claire Boyle, 2017-12-02 Since 1975 French literary writing has been marked by an autobiographical turn which has seen authors increasingly often tap into the vein of what the French term écriture de soi. This coincides paradoxically with the death of autobiography as these authors self consciously distance themselves and their writings from conventional autobiography founding a nouvelle autobiographie where the very possibility of autobiographical expression is questioned. In the first book length study in English to address this phenomenon Claire Boyle sheds a new light on this hostility toward autobiography through a series of ground breaking studies of estrangement in autobiographical works by major post war authors Nathalie Sarraute, Georges Perec, Jean Genet and Helene Cixous. She identifies autobiography as a site of conflict between writer and reader as authors struggle to assert the unknowableness of their identity in the face of a readership resolutely desiring privileged knowledge. Autobiography emerges as a deeply troubling genre for authors with the reader as an antagonistic consumer of the autobiographical self.

Kate Atkinson Armelle Parey, 2022-11-15 This timely in depth study of award winning Kate Atkinson's work provides a welcome comprehensive overview of the novels, plays and short stories. It explores the major themes and aesthetic concerns in her fiction. Combining close analysis and literary contextualisation it situates her multi faceted work in terms of a hybridisation of genres and innovative narrative strategies to evoke contemporary issues and well as the past. Chapters offer insights into each major publication from Behind the Scenes at the Museum to Big Sky the latest instalment in the Brodie sequence through the celebrated Life After Life and subsequent re imaginings of the war in relation to the key concerns of Atkinson's fiction including self narrativisation, history, memory and women's lives. African American Autobiographers

Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2002-03-30 There is growing popular and scholarly interest in autobiography along with increasing regard for the achievements of African American writers. The first reference of its kind this volume chronicles the autobiographical tradition in African American literature. Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 66 African American authors who present autobiographical material in their works. The volume profiles major figures such as Frederick Douglass, Zora Neale Hurston, Richard Wright, Maya Angelou, James Baldwin and Malcolm X along with many lesser known autobiographers who deserve greater attention. While some are known primarily for their literary accomplishments others have gained acclaim for their diverse contributions to society. The entries are written by expert contributors and provide authoritative information about their subjects. Each begins with a concise biography which summarizes the life and achievements of the autobiographer. This is followed by a discussion of major autobiographical works and themes along with an overview of the autobiographer's critical reception. The entries close with primary and secondary bibliographies and a selected general bibliography concludes the volume. Together the entries provide a detailed portrait of the African American autobiographical tradition from the 18th century to the present. Slave Narratives after Slavery William L.

Andrews,2011-04-25 The pre Civil War autobiographies of famous fugitives such as Frederick Douglass William Wells Brown and Harriet Jacobs form the bedrock of the African American narrative tradition After emancipation arrived in 1865 former slaves continued to write about their experience of enslavement and their upward struggle to realize the promise of freedom and citizenship Slave Narratives After Slavery reprints five of the most important and revealing first person narratives of slavery and freedom published after 1865 Elizabeth Keckley s controversial Behind the Scenes 1868 introduced white America to the industry and progressive outlook of an emerging black middle class The little known Narrative of the life of John Quincy Adams When in Slavery and Now as a Freeman 1872 gave eloquent voice to the African American working class as it migrated from the South to the North in search of opportunity William Wells Brown s My Southern Home 1880 retooled the image of slavery delineated in his widely read antebellum Narrative and offered his reader a first hand assessment of the South at the close of Reconstruction Lucy Ann Delaney used From the Darkness Cometh the Light 1891 to pay tribute to her enslaved mother and to exemplify the qualities of mind and spirit that had ensured her own fulfillment in freedom Louis Hughes s Thirty Years a Slave 1897 spoke for a generation of black Americans who perceiving the spread of segregation across the South sought to remind the nation of the horrors of its racial history and of the continued dedication of the once enslaved to dignity opportunity and independence La Follette's Weekly Magazine ,1912 Abolitionist

Negotiated Memory Julie Rak,2004 The Doukhobors Russian speaking immigrants who arrived in Canada beginning in 1899 are known primarily to the Canadian public through the sensationalist images of them as nude protestors anarchists and religious fanatics representations largely propagated by government commissions and the Canadian media In Negotiating Memory Julie Rak examines the ways in which autobiographical strategies have been employed by the Doukhobors themselves in order to retell and reclaim their own history Drawing from oral interviews court documents government reports prison diaries and media accounts Rak demonstrates how the Doukhobors employed both classic and alternative forms of autobiography to communicate their views about communal living vegetarianism activism and spiritual life as well as to pass on traditions to successive generations More than a historical work this book brings together recent theories concerning subjectivity autobiography and identity and shows how Doukhobor autobiographical discourse forms a series of ongoing negotiations for identity and collective survival that are sometimes successful and sometimes not An innovative study Negotiating Memory will appeal to those interested in autobiography studies as well as to historians literary critics and students and scholars of Canadian cultural studies
