

The author has been studying the development of conception of Earth Crust dynamics evolution (CECEDE) for many years. Numerous hypotheses, conceptions, models and other theoretical geotectonic constructions have been analyzed, taking into consideration the laws of physics, mechanics, chemistry and other natural sciences as well as unaccepted factual data established on the basis of the latest scientific achievements. As a result of these studies a new geotectonic conception (CECEDE), which explained the nature of the multiple tectonic processes, has been created. The true formation reasons and mechanism of many natural processes formation can be explained from point of view of the conception. These problems were the discussion objects in previous tectonic conceptions. The objects of these discussions are the origin of anomalous phenomena, formation and mechanism of the mountain-fold systems, volcanoplutonic processes, origin of global deep faults, reasons of lithospheric masses transformation and so on.

Basic Problems In Geotectonics:

Basic Problems in Geotectonics Vladimir Vladimirovich Belousov, 1962 Problems of Geotectonics in China, 1968 The book is the research results of some tectonic geologists in China in recent years A total of eight articles in this field are collected in this book This collection investigates the four major problems 1 The architectonic characteristics in China and the principle of development there are three different viewpoints on this subject The theory of the interior lowland the theory of mosaics and the theory of inherited and superimposed structures 2 The pre Cambrian architectonic problems of the eastern part of China with the emphasis upon the characteristics of tectonic changes during the early Archeozoic Era 3 Architectonics of the Mesozoic Cenozoic oil bearing basins in China and 4 Architectonic problems in the Southeastern region of China This book is suitable as a reference for research workers in geology geotectonics and petroleum geology and related instructors Author Some Basic Questions of Geotectonics Today Viktor Efimovich Khain, 1961 Geotectonics V. V. Belousov, 2012-12-06 Geotectonics has a special place among the geological disciplines In addition to ideas based on firmly established facts that constitute lasting scientific values geotectonics as a generalizing branch of geology embraces broad constructions that link the planet's deep interior with its surface and are largely of a hypothetical character The interpretation of the most general matters of the structure and evolution of the globe varies not only from one generation of geologists to another but even within one generation The interpretation depends not only and not so much on the state of geological knowledge as on the progress of the related sciences of geophysics and geochemistry In trying to discover the deep lying causes of tectonic processes geotectonics has to unite the results of all the Earth sciences converting itself to some extent from a purely geological science into a general physical geographic or geonomic science The fluidity of the general ideas and the need for joint consideration of the geological geophysical and geochemical data to substantiate these ideas are the main difficulties facing the author of a textbook on geotectonics There is undoubtedly however a need for a manual of this kind particularly now when the literature on the various problems of geotectonics has grown so great and so varied in content that it is very difficult for the experienced researcher let alone the student to find his way NASA Technical Translation, 1969 Continental Tectonics National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Commission on Physical Sciences, Mathematics, and Applications, Geophysics Research Board, Assembly of Mathematical and Physical Sciences, Geophysics Study Committee, 1980-02-01 Geophysical Abstracts, 1970

Geological Structures and Moving Plates R.G. Park, 2013-04-17 A History of Modern Planetary Physics Stephen G. Brush, 1996-04-26 Where did we come from Before there was life there had to be something to live on a planet a solar system During the past 200 years astronomers and geologists have developed and tested several different theories about the origin of the solar system and the nature of the Earth Did the Earth and other planets form as a by product of a natural process that formed the Sun Did the solar system come into being as the result of catastrophic encounter of two stars

Is the inside of the Earth solid liquid or gaseous The three volumes that make up A History of Modern Planetary Physics present a survey of these theories Nebulous Earth follows the development of the nineteenth century s most popular explanation for the origin of the solar system Laplace s Nebular Hypothesis This theory supposes that a flattened mass of gas extending beyond Neptune s orbit cooled and shrank throwing off in the process successive rings that in time coalesced to form several planets Proceedings of the 27th International Geological Congress ,1984-12
