Bass Line The Stories And Photographs Of Milt Hinton:

Bass Line Milt Hinton, David Garrett Berger, 1988 The author looks back on his career as a jazz musician and shares his photographs and impressions of the major jazz performers with whom he worked

Root Shock Mindy Thompson Fullilove, 2016-11 Root Shock examines 3 different U S cities to unmask the crippling results of decades old disinvestment in communities of color and the urban renewal practices that ultimately destroyed these neighborhoods for the advantage of developers and the elite Like a sequel to the prescient warnings of urbanist Jane Jacobs Dr Mindy Thompson Fullilove reveals the disturbing effects of decades of insensitive urban renewal projects on communities of color For those whose homes and neighborhoods were bulldozed the urban modernization projects that swept America starting in 1949 were nothing short of an assault Vibrant city blocks places rich in culture were torn apart by freeways and other invasive development devastating the lives of poor residents Fullilove passionately describes the profound traumatic stress the root shock that results when a neighborhood is demolished She estimates that federal and state urban renewal programs spearheaded by business and real estate interests destroyed 1 600 African American districts in cities across the United States But urban renewal didn't just disrupt black communities it ruined their economic health and social cohesion stripping displaced residents of their sense of place as well It also left big gashes in the centers of cities that are only now slowly being repaired Focusing on the Hill District of Pittsburgh the Central Ward in Newark and the small Virginia city of Roanoke Dr Fullilove argues powerfully against policies of displacement Understanding the damage caused by root shock is crucial to coping with its human toll and helping cities become whole

Mindy Thompson Fullilove MD is a research psychiatrist at New York State Psychiatric Institute and professor of clinical psychiatry and public health at Columbia University She is the author of five books including Urban Alchemy

Do You Know...? Robert R. Faulkner, Howard S. Becker, 2024-05-31 Every night somewhere in the world three or four musicians will climb on stage together Whether the gig is at a jazz club a bar or a bar mitzvah the performance never begins with a note but with a question The trumpet player might turn to the bassist and ask Do you know Body and Soul and from there the subtle craft of playing the jazz repertoire is tested in front of a live audience These ordinary musicians may never have played together they may never have met so how do they smoothly put on a show without getting booed offstage In Do You Know Robert R Faulkner and Howard S Becker both jazz musicians with decades of experience performing present the view from the bandstand revealing the array of skills necessary for working musicians to do their jobs While learning songs from sheet music or by ear helps the jobbing musician's lexicon is dauntingly massive hundreds of thousands of tunes from jazz classics and pop standards to more exotic fare Since it is impossible for anyone to memorize all of these songs Faulkner and Becker show that musicians collectively negotiate and improvise their way to a successful performance Players must explore each others areas of expertise develop an ability to fake their way through unfamiliar territory and respond to the unpredictable demands of their audience whether an unexpected gang of polka fanatics or a tipsy father of the bride with an obscure favorite song Do You Know dishes out entertaining stories and sharp insights drawn from the authors own experiences and observations as well as interviews with a range of musicians Faulkner and Becker s vivid detailed portrait of the musician at work holds valuable lessons for anyone who has to think on the spot or under a spotlight From Jazz to Swing Thomas J. Hennessey,1994 In the 1920s many black regional jazz bands were recorded and became products of the entertainment industry which was altering the face of America from the handmade homemade society of the nineteenth century to the mass produced mass consumed In the 1920s many black regional jazz bands were recorded and became products of the entertainment industry which was altering the face of America from the handmade homemade society of the nineteenth century to the mass produced mass consumed technological culture of the twentieth century Making use of the files of African American newspapers such as the Chicago Defender as well as published and archival oral history interviews Hennessey explores the contradictions that musicians often faced as African Americans as trained professional musicians and as the products of differing regional experiences From Jazz to Swing follows jazz from its beginnings in the regional black musics of the turn of the century in New Orleans Chicago New York and the territories that make up the rest of the country Lester Leaps In Douglas H. Daniels,2003-02-17 He was jazz s first hipster He performed in sunglasses and coined and popularized phrases like that s cool and you dig He always wore a suit and his trademark porkpie hat He influenced everyone from B B King to Stan Getz to Allen Ginsberg creating a lyrical style of playing that forever changed the sound of the tenor saxophone In this groundbreaking biography of Lester Young 1909 1959 historian Douglas Daniels brings to life the man and his world and corrects a number of misconceptions Even though others have identified Young as a Kansas City musician Daniels traces his roots to the blues of Louisiana and his early years traveling with his father s band and the legendary Oklahoma City Blue Devils Later we see the jazz culture of New York in the early 1940s when Young was launched to national and international fame with the Count Basie Orchestra and began to accompany his close friend Billie Holiday After a year spent in an Army prison on a conviction for marijuana use Young made changes in his music but never lost his sensitivity or soul The first ever to gain access to Young s family and many musicians who performed with him Daniels reconstructs the world in which Young lived and played the racism that he and other black musicians faced the feeling of home and family that they created together on the road and what his music meant to black audiences Young emerges as a kind friend a loving parent and a gentle and sensitive man who had in the words of Reginald Scott the saddest eyes I ever saw Crime and Music Dina Siegel, Frank Bovenkerk,2020-12-07 This unique volume explores the relationship between music and crime in its various forms and expressions bringing together two areas rarely discussed in the same contexts and combining them through the tools offered by cultural criminology Contributors discuss a range of topics from how songs and artists draw on criminality as inspiration to how musical expression fulfills unexpected functions such as building deviant subcultures encouraging social movements or carrying messages of protest Comprised of contributions from an international cohort of scholars the book is categorized into five parts The Criminalization of Music Music and Violence Organised Crime and Music Music Genocide and Crimes Against Humanity and Music as Resistance Spanning a range of cultures and time periods Crime and Music will be of interest to researchers in critical and cultural criminology the history of music anthropology ethnology and sociology
