Building Better Board Administrator Relations Problems And Solutions:

The Board-Savvy Superintendent Paul D. Houston, Doug Eadie, 2002-11-23 The Board Savvy Superintendent s hard hitting no nonsense advice on school board leadership capitalizes on Houston and Eadie s hands on experience working with hundreds of boards and superintendents over the past quarter century It is a practical survive and thrive book that will help school district leaders board members superintendents and senior administrators learn to work together successfully in leading their districts in these extraordinarily challenging times Filled with detailed thoroughly tested guidance on how to acquire the skills and knowledge that make up board savvyness it also addresses how to develop the school board s capacity to produce truly high impact governance and how to build a strong enduring productive board superintendent working partnership The authors take a fresh look at the process of governing going well beyond the old fashioned control focused policy governance approach Rather than being preoccupied with developing a static structure of policies to distinguish the board s role from the superintendent s the book describes how the board and superintendent can creatively work together in making decisions about such critical governing products as values vision mission and strategic change initiatives School district leaders will appreciate The Board Savvy Superintendent s close look at the gold standard for board involvement in school affairs leading strategic change The authors go well beyond the conventional long range planning approach of merely projecting everything a school district is doing for some arbitrary period of 3 or 5 years which has generated tons of paper and little important change to provide the reader with detailed practical guidance on engaging school boards creatively and proactively in a much more selective vision driven process that actually results in the implementation of strategic change the Strategic Change Portfolio

Five Habits of High-Impact School Boards Douglas C. Eadie, 2005 Written from the unique perspective of school board members who lead and serve districts of all sizes this book provides succinct straightforward information that school board members and superintendents can put to immediate use Eadie explores five key behavioral traits of high impact school boards Concentration on governing above all other board work Development of the board s capacity to govern Active participation in leading district strategic change Meticulous attention to keeping the board superintendent partnership healthy Active participation in reaching out a wider community Five Habits of High Impact School Boards provides school board members superintendents senior administrators foundation executives and graduate students in schools of education with practical thoroughly tested guidance for successful governing work and a board superintendent partnership that is close productive and enduring

Resources in Education ,1997-10 Handbook on How to Build Superintendent-Board Relationships John A. Chapman,Michael Meacher,Angela Sears,Kenneth Urwin,2021-11-07 Originally published in 1965 this standard work sets out to explore the questions What is social administration and how can people prepare themselves for this work It shows the social services in continuous evolution in response to political economic and social change and it ends with a deeply thoughtful and thought provoking analysis of the processes and causes of this evolution and of the different contributions to change made by the various parties concerned This analysis is based on the case studies presented in the book s central chapters Of this new version of the book first published in 1975 Professor Donnison wrote The first three chapters of the original book have been scrapped and a new introduction to the whole subject takes their place an introduction not only to the literature about social policy and administration but to the point and purpose of the subject for students who rightly expect to be convinced about this before devoting their time to it Then follow eight case studies of innovations in the work and policies of local units of the social services including housing education a home help service planning and legal aid besides social work services These are the original studies untouched I have returned to each agency and found out what has happened since our original studies adding a postscript to each outlining the main developments since the original research ten to twenty years ago I don t think anyone has ever done that before In most cases the innovating trends we identified have gone further often becoming national orthodoxy by now The one on legal aid where unexpected developments have occurred is at least as interesting Professor Donnison has added a ninth case study of the Department of Social Administration at the London School of Economics where he was working when the original studies were made Professor Richard Titmuss was head of the department at that time This study traces the development of education for social workers at a seminal stage and the difficult problems which had to be resolved when major new departures occurred in this field The chapter will be of lasting interest to historians of social work and social work education in Britain besides throwing light on the process of innovation in social policy Federal Administrative Dispute Resolution Deskbook Marshall J. Breger, Gerald S. Schatz, Deborah Schick Laufer, 2001 Managing the Human Service "system": what Have We Learned from Services Integration? DeWitt John, Project Share, 1977 Title IV and School Desegregation United States.
