Charlotte Brunsdon

All Or Nothing The Cinema Of Mike Leigh Framing Film:

All Or Nothing Edward Trostle Jones, 2004 This critical study of Mike Leigh's cinema is a comprehensive assessment of his thirty plus years in film including his television features from the first feature length Bleak Moments to All or Nothing. Through his own species of tragicomedy and favored thematic content concentrating on relationships Leigh enlarges the emotional boundaries of cinema for performers and audience alike. His deep and fully realized characters often subvert both decorum and irony traditionally associated with British film and television. Leigh's sense of the reciprocity and interpenetration of the material, mundane, the ridiculous and the humanistic sublime brings respect for the complexity of the ordinary and merits celebration within the democratic and demotic art of film. Mike Leigh Sean O'Sullivan, 2011-08-24

The author discusses the British film director Mike Leigh through an examination of his films as well as several interviews with Leigh and finds that he is a director interested in cinema's formal, conceptual and narrative dimensions. Devised and Directed by Mike Leigh Bryan Cardinale-Powell, Marc DiPaolo, 2013-07-22 Renowned for making films that are at once sly domestic satires and heartbreaking social realist dramas, British writer-director Mike Leigh confronts his viewers with an unromanticized dramatization of modern day society in the hopes of inspiring them to strive for greater self-awareness and compassion for others. This collection features new interdisciplinary essays that cover all phases of the BAFTA award winner's film career from his early made-for-television film work to his theatrical releases including Life is Sweet 1990, Naked 1993, Secrets, the collaborative process of devising and directing a Mike Leigh film that involves character building, world construction, plotting, improvisations and script writing, the process of funding and marketing for these seemingly uncommercial projects and a survey of Leigh's critical reception and the existing writing on his work. The Cinema of Mike Leigh Garry Watson, 2004 A keen observer of British manners and mores, Mike Leigh has been hailed as a celebrator of ordinary people. Comparing and contrasting all his films from Bleak Moments and High Hopes through Naked, the Oscar-nominated Secrets and Lies and Topsy Turvy to All or Nothing, Garry Watson considers this claim, examining both their influence and their effect. Through careful textual detail and wider social and literary comparison with the works of Charles Dickens and T.S. Eliot, he argues ultimately for the artistic and cultural significance of Leigh's work as one of Britain's most respected film makers. London in Cinema Charlotte Brunsdon, 2019-07-25 Charlotte Brunsdon's illuminating study explores the variety of cinematic Londons that appear in films made since 1945. Brunsdon traces the familiar ways that film makers establish that a film is set in London by use of recognisable landmarks and the city's shorthand iconography of red buses and black taxis as well as the ways in which these icons are avoided. She looks at London weather, fog and rain and everyday locations like the pub and the housing estate while also examining the recurring patterns of representation associated with films set in the East and West Ends of London from Spring in Park Lane 1948 to Mona Lisa 1986 and from Night and the City 1950 to From Hell 2001. Brunsdon provides a detailed analysis of a selection of films exploring their contribution to the cinematic geography of London and showing the ways in which feature films have responded to and created changing views of the city She traces London's transformation from imperial capital to global city through the different ways in which the local is imagined in films ranging from Ealing comedies to Pressure 1974 as well as through the shifting imagery of the River Thames and the Docks She addresses the role of cinematic genres such as horror and film noir in the constitution of the cinematic city as well as the recurrence of figures such as the cockney the gangster and the housewife Challenging the view that London is not a particularly cinematic city Brunsdon demonstrates that many London set films offer their own meditation on the complex relationships between the cinema and the city

Social Realism David Forrest, 2013-09-27 This book presents a radical reappraisal of one of the most persistent and misunderstood aspects of British cinema social realism Through means of close textual analysis David Forrest advances the case that social realism has provided British national culture with a consistent and distinctive art cinema arguing that a theoretical reassessment of the mode can enable it to be located within the context of broader traditions of global cinema The book begins with the documentary movement and British wartime cinema before moving to the British new wave and social problem cycle the films of Ken Loach the films of Mike Leigh realism in the 1980s specifically the work of Stephen Frears and Alan Clarke before concluding with a discussion of contemporary realist cinema specifically the work of Shane Meadows Andrea Arnold and other recent exponents of the mode These case studies give a thorough platform to explore the most prominent and diverse examples of realist practice in Britain over the last 80 years The construction and critical analysis of this social realist canon creates the conditions to reassess and look anew at this most British of cinematic traditions

G.K. Hall Bibliographic Guide to Theatre Arts New York Public Library. Research Libraries, 2003

Mike Leigh Tony Whitehead, 2013-07-19 Mike Leigh may well be Britain's greatest living film director his worldview has permeated our national consciousness This book gives detailed readings of the nine feature films he has made for the cinema as well as an overview of his work for television Written with the co operation of Leigh himself this is the first study of his work to challenge the critical privileging of realism in histories of the British cinema placing the emphasis instead on the importance of comedy and humour of jokes and their functions of laughter as a survival mechanism and of characterisations and situations that disrupt our preconceptions of realism Striving for the all important quality of truth in everything he does Leigh has consistently shown how ordinary lives are too complex to fit snugly into the conventions of narrative art From the bittersweet observation of Life is Sweet or Secrets and Lies to the blistering satire of Naked and the manifest compassion of Vera Drake he has demonstrated a matchless ability to perceive life's funny side as well as its tragedies

Feature Films in English Language Teaching Britta Viebrock, 2016-07-11 Feature Films in English Language Teaching deals with the use of motion pictures in the advanced EFL English as a foreign language classroom It provides a general introduction to film literacy and explains the rationale methods and objectives of working with feature films In addition the book contains in depth considerations on sixteen selected films which are grouped regionally Australia New Zealand South Africa USA Great Britain Each chapter describes the topical focus of the film and its central theme and provides background information on social historical political and geographical issues A profound analysis of selected scenes lays the foundation for considerations on the teaching potential of the film In a download section the chapters are complemented with ready to use teaching materials on film specific aspects narrative dramatic and cinematographic dimensions which are organised as pre while post viewing activities A glossary on technical terms for film analysis completes the volume Roger Ebert's Four Star Reviews--1967-2007 Roger Ebert,2008-02 Presents a collection of the critic s most positive film reviews of the last four decades arranged alphabetically from About Last Night to Zodiac
