BRADSHAW'S RAILWAY MAP 1907

GREAT BRITAIN & IRELAND

At the turn of the twentieth century the British railway system extended to over 23,000 miles, the greatest length it was ever to achieve. This map of 1907 captures the network in its heyday.
