Leaders in Gender and Education Marcus B. Weaver- Hightower,Christine Skelton,2013-09-04 Gender studies are a key lens through which education has been examined in the past forty years having become an accepted and popular subfield in educational foundations studies Moreover scholars in gender and education have made tremendous contributions well beyond education influencing humanities and social sciences scholars across the academy Hearing the stories of these scholars their development education important works and thoughts on the future offers unique insights into the genesis and growth of the field and gives new scholars an overview of advances made Leaders in Gender and Education Intellectual Self Portraits does just that showing the history of gender and education through the eyes of 16 of its leaders By recounting their experiences and scholarly work they trace the development of feminist and profeminist research on girls on boys and on the issues shaping both gender and education issues like race sexuality neoliberalism globalization and more Importantly the volume has a global focus including scholars from the United States Canada the United Kingdom and Australia This diversity gives readers a broad sense of the progress of gender scholarship in education around the world Each essay provides students and researchers alike with not only background on the 16 scholars included but also the lists of major works chosen by contributors themselves direct readers to some of the most important scholarship on gender and education Taken together further the contributors thoughts on the future of the field provide glimpses of productive directions for studies of gender and education

Rethinking Single Sex Teaching Iverson , Gabrielle,Murphy, Patricia,2007-11-01 Drawing on classroom observations and in depth interviews with teachers and pupils this book illustrates how single sex classrooms operate and the effect it has on learners Rethinking Single Sex Teaching is thought provoking reading for teachers head teachers and policy makers

Identity, Neoliberalism and Aspiration Garth Stahl,2015-01-09 In recent years there has been growing concern over the pervasive disparities in academic achievement that are highly influenced by ethnicity class and gender Specifically within the neoliberal policy rhetoric there has been concern over underachievement of working class young males specifically white working class boys The historic persistence of this pattern and the ominous implication of these trends on the long term life chances of white working class boys has led to a growing chorus that something must be done to intervene This book provides an in depth sociological study exploring the subjectivities within the neoliberal ideology of the school environment in order to expand our understanding of white working class disengagement with education The chapters discuss how white working class boys in three educational sites enact social and learner identities focusing on the practices of meaning making and identity work that the boys experienced and the disjunctures and commonalities between them The book presents an analysis of the varying tensions influencing the identity of each boy and the consequences of these pressures on their engagement with education Drawing on Bourdieu's theoretical tools and a model of egalitarian habitus Identity Neoliberalism and Aspiration Educating white working class boys will be of interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the field of sociology of education and those from related disciplines studying class and gender

Gender Balance and Gender Bias in Education Deirdre Raftery, Maryann Valiulis, 2013-09-13 This book presents a compelling range of international research on the issues of gender balance and gender bias in education The chapters draw on cutting edge work from the US Latin America the UK Ireland and Africa presenting readers with new insights into how educators and students often negotiate deeply ingrained prejudices that are expressed in gendered terms The book reflects research that draws on a range of methodologies and both historical and contemporary education contexts are examined Drawing on historical research the book widens our understanding of gender issues in education and provides chapters on physical activity for girls in nineteenth century America and on the patriarchal imperative in mission education in Africa in the nineteenth century Turning to research on contemporary education settings the book explores the global phenomenon of the feminisation of teaching It also illustrates how teachers work in classrooms in which boys' expressions of masculinities explicitly challenge school order and looks at the performance of both masculinities and femininities in several education contexts The book also includes absorbing work on the practices and processes that contribute to the gendering of digital technologies and it demonstrates ways in which parents unwittingly accept the gendered management of internet risk for their daughters This book was published as a special issue of Gender and Education From Labouring to Learning Michael R.M. Ward, 2016-04-29 Highly Commended in the Society of Educational Studies Book Prize This book explores how economic changes and the growing importance of educational qualifications in a shrinking labour market particularly affects marginalized young men It follows a group of young working class men in a de industrial community and challenges commonly held representations that often appear in the media and in policy discourses which portray them as feckless out of control educational failures and lacking aspiration Ward argues that for a group of young men in a community of social and economic deprivation expectations and transitions to adulthood are framed through the industrial legacy of geographically and historically shaped class and gender codes These codes have an impact on what it means to be a man and what behaviour is deemed acceptable and what is not The SAGE Handbook of Identities Margaret Wetherell, Chandra Talpade Mohanty, 2010-04-14 Increasingly identities are the site for interdisciplinary initiatives and identity research is at the heart of many transdisciplinary research centres around the world No single social science discipline owns identity research which makes it a difficult topic to categorize The SAGE Handbook of Identities systematizes this complex field by incorporating its interdisciplinary character to provide a comprehensive overview of its themes in contemporary research while still acknowledging the historical and philosophical significance of the concept of identity Drawing on a global scholarship the Handbook has four parts Part 1 Frameworks presents the main theoretical and methodological perspectives in identities research Part 2 Formations covers the major formative forces for identities such as culture globalisation migratory patterns biology and so on Part 3 Categories reviews research on the core social categories which are central to identity such as ethnicity gender sexuality disability and social class and intersections between these Part 4 Sites and Context develops a series of case studies of crucial sites and contexts where identity is at stake such as social movements relationships and family life work places and environments and citizenship
