Paul Rutherford

Ad Man:

An Ad Man Ad-Libs on TV Bob Foreman, 2008-05-30 Bob Foreman came into radio and television from an advertising agency. He days developing and sponsoring such shows as The 64 000 Question, Groucho Marx Your Hit Parade and dozens of others provide source material for his humorous looks at the media.

All I Ever Wanted to Be Was An Ad Man Anthony Eglin, 2024-02-13 From a childhood growing up dodging doodlebugs and bombs in wartime Britain to an award winning career in advertising and marketing more madcap than Mad Men to a panoply of fascinating passions and pursuits Anthony Eglin's continent spanning story is a heart warming romp through the second half of the twentieth century and a captivating portrait of a life well lived.

The Adman's Dilemma Paul Rutherford, 2018-10-11 The Adman's Dilemma is a cultural biography that explores the rise and fall of the advertising man as a figure who became effectively a licensed deceiver in the process of governing the lives of American consumers. Apparently this personage was caught up in a contradiction both compelled to deceive yet supposed to tell the truth. It was this moral condition and its consequences that made the adman so interesting to critics, novelists and eventually filmmakers. The biography tracks his saga from its origins in the exaggerated doings of P. T. Barnum, the emergence of a new profession in the 1920s, the heyday of the adman's influence during the post WW2 era, the later rebranding of the adman as artist until the apparent demise of the figure symbolized by the triumph of that consummate huckster Donald Trump. In The Adman's Dilemma author Paul Rutherford explores how people inside and outside the advertising industry have understood the conflict between artifice and authenticity. The book employs a range of fictional and nonfictional sources including memoirs, novels, movies, TV shows, websites and museum exhibits to suggest how the adman embodied some of the strange realities of modernity.

The Adman in the Parlor Ellen Gruber Garvey, 1996 Reading the turn of the century magazine this book resituates the writing of Chopin, Cather, Howells and numerous unknown writers in relation to commercial as well as literary culture. It investigates readers' responses to the magazines and the reading practices that develop around them.

The Education of an Adman Bob Burriesci, 2014-07-09 The Education of an Adman provides industry insights by including about 50 anecdotes spanning a period of 35 years of the author's career as an account executive with New York advertising agencies. It is a true story of the quirky, unconventional nature of all aspects of the business from strategic planning, research, creative, media planning and buying to production and legal aspects of the job. Spanning the period 1969 to 2003, the book includes a myriad of characters, some of whom were among the greats and some who weren't so good. It evaluates fellow workers for their idiosyncratic, strange and sometimes shameful behavior. It brings credence to the adage: expect the unexpected and emphasizes the need to figure it out for yourself. There is a saying that if you give someone a fish that person has a meal. But if you teach someone how to fish that person has meals for a lifetime. I feel this way about teaching, says Bob Burriesci. We give students the tools with which to make a living for their lifetimes. In a constantly changing and evolving world these tools are most often about developing the critical thinking process of problem solving The author adds By showing just how unpredictable and erratic the business can be I hope to give students a basis for the realization that if they acquire these tools they ll be ready to make a living for a lifetime 'To See a World in a Grain of Sand': Glass from Nubia and the Ancient Mediterranean Juliet V. Spedding,2023-05-04 Using modern scientific methods this book examines glass beads and vessel fragments dating from the Meroitic and Early Nobadia periods providing a new assessment of glass from Nubia Results reveal interrelationships between trade technological understanding and manufacturing choices across the cultures of Sudan Egypt and the Mediterranean Business Man's Library:
