Global Networks, Local Actions Marcella Milana, 2016-12-01 Global Networks Local Actions Rethinking adult education policy in the 21st century examines public policy developments in adult education exploring the policy framing of adult education practice in a range of socio cultural contexts and contributing to the development of policy research from global and comparative perspectives Drawing from multidisciplinary fields such as adult education comparative and international education and sociology chapters analyse empirically grounded studies from the US Italy Argentina and Brazil Each study helps to identify how political agents interact at international regional national and local scales and what the implications are for publically funded interventions in adult education While this book recognises the complexity of adult education policy it argues for the need to deconstruct the false belief that what is global in adult education may be intrinsically distinct from the characteristics of geographical or social territories in which adult education occurs Instead it points to localised norms and ideas on Adult Basic and Secondary Education as ultimately contained in and constituting what is at times perceived as global or abstracted from definite geographical or social territories This book calls for a global sociology of adult education in response to global challenges and makes an important contribution to our understanding of developments in public adult education policy As such it will be of key interest to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of adult education comparative and international education education policy and politics sociology of education and global studies

Actions of Their Own to Learn ,2017-01-01 What does it mean to take actions of one s own to learn How do human beings create meaning for themselves and with others How can learners active efforts to build knowledge be encouraged and supported In this edited compilation scholars from a diverse range of academic and professional backgrounds address these questions grounded in the conviction that the ability to take effective action of one s own to learn is itself an essential form of knowledge In an era of dramatic social environmental and political change the need to access vast amounts of information to make decisions demands that learners become active agents in their own knowledge development Educators are transforming ideas about their role s as they strive to provide guidance to help learners take the lead in their own learning Learners are building new ideas about their capacities to gather and organize information while working with others No longer simply consumers of information they are beginning to see themselves as capable and effective researchers Researchers are also expanding ideas about their knowledge gathering work and identities No longer simply reporters of information researchers are seeing themselves as learners as they engage in deeper more collaborative ways with participants in their research Chapter authors describe their dedicated and often career long journeys to show the vital connections between knowledge acting to learn identity and being To engage in this work means disrupting traditional ideas about how knowledge is most effectively acquired This book will inspire researchers educators and educational planners as they build the kinds of new participative structures needed to support individual and collective actions to learn See inside the book
