A Common Mans View:

A Common Man's View Chad Dupill, 2012-02 Republicans and Democrats continue to fight with each other but the truth is that neither side is really presenting Americans with solutions to their most pressing problems One reason the so called mainstream right and left can't understand the struggles of everyday people is that virtually all of them are far removed from regular life A Common Man's View provides a fresh perspective from middle class America in a bid to get the country back on the right track Join a former US Marine Corps helicopter pilot who was deployed twice in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom as he focuses on what being a hero means where to find modern day heroes what is at stake in the War on Terror what faith attitude and a little bit of perspective can do and what to do to achieve individual and collective success The common people do not have nannies to watch over their children and they somehow balance their household budgets as the economy goes up and down Discover what makes the United States great and play your part in reversing its decline by holding up old

Bertrand Russell saw in the 1950s that there are also many negative aspects of scientific innovation. Insightful and controversial in equal measure, Russell argues that science offers the world greater well-being than it has ever known on the condition that prosperity is dispersed, power is diffused by means of a single world government, birth rates do not become too high, and war is abolished. Russell acknowledges that is a tall order but remains essentially optimistic. He imagines mankind in a race between human skill as to means and human folly as to ends but believes human society will ultimately choose the path of reason.
