Appendix Vergiliana:

On the Culex and other poems of the Appendix Vergiliana [by R. Ellis]. Robinson Ellis, 1882 Appendix Vergiliana. [Containing the Culex, Dirae, Copa, Aetna, Etc.]. Virgil, 1880 Poems without Poets Boris Kayachev, 2021-03-31 The canon of classical Greek and Latin poetry is built around big names with Homer and Virgil at the center but many ancient poems survive without a firm ascription to a known author This negative category anonymity ties together texts as different as for instance the orally derived Homeric Hymns and the learned interpolation that is the Helen episode in Aeneid 2 but they all have in common that they have been maltreated in various ways consciously or through neglect by generations of readers and scholars ancient as well as modern These accumulated layers of obliteration which can manifest for instance in textual distortions or aesthetic condemnation make it all but impossible to access anonymous poems in their pristine shape and context The essays collected in this volume attempt each in its own way to disentangle the bundles of historically accreted uncertainties and misconceptions that affect individual anonymous texts including pseudepigrapha ascribed to Homer Manetho Virgil and Tibullus literary and inscribed epigrams and unattributed fragments Poems without Poets will be of interest to students and scholars working on any anonymous ancient texts but also to readers seeking an introduction to classical poetry beyond the limits of the established canon American Journal of Philology, 1882 The Rhetoric of the Roman Fake Irene Peirano, 2012-08-16 An in depth analysis of Roman literary fakes offering new insights into the creative dynamics of spurious literature Ciris, 2020-12-31 The Ciris is a small scale epic poem which relates the myth of Scylla daughter of king Nisus of Megara who betrayed her homeland for love and was transformed into a sea bird It is one of the poems in the Appendix Vergiliana a collection that has been ascribed to Virgil as his carmina minora Earlier scholarship has mostly been concerned to prove that the Ciris is not by Virgil and then to demonstrate that it is a late and derivative composition of little intrinsic merit The present book argues that Ciris was composed by a contemporary of Virgil a product of the golden age of Latin poetry It aims to bring the poem to the attention of modern readers and to rescue it from ill deserved neglect The introduction presents detailed linguistic literary and historical arguments in support of this early composition date and offers a state of the art account of the textual witnesses and the manuscript tradition The critical text and apparatus are based on a systematic first hand analysis of manuscript evidence as well as the rigorous application of text critical methods The new text as close to the original Ciris as can be achieved includes over one hundred and fifty changes from previous editions By engaging with textual scholarship on the poem from the fifteenth to the twenty first century the line by line commentary provides a comprehensive guide to the numerous textual problems and is an important contribution to the stylistic and linguistic analysis of golden age Latin poetry A History of Roman Literature Michael von Albrecht, 1997 Transactions and Proceedings of the American Philological Association American Philological Association, 1923 Bibliographical record of works published by members of the Association in v 28 1897 A Bodleian Ms. of
