Broadcasting Finance In Transition A Comparative Handbook:

Broadcasting Finance in Transition Jay G. Blumler, Thomas Johnson Nossiter, 1991 Much of this study which addresses the issue of alternative ways of financing public service broadcasting in the USA and Europe has been based on the Peacock Committee on Financing the BBC in which the author was involved American Television on British Screens P.

Rixon, 2006-05-02 This work explores how American programmes have become an important part of British television culture since the 1950 s moving from schedule fillers to cornerstones and must see attractions The book analyses popular and industrial discourses the changing roles of such programmes on British screens and interviews with key British broadcasters

Conflicting Communication Interests in America Tom McCourt, 1999-10-30 Public broadcasting has changed dramatically since its founding in 1967 The growing equation of marketplace efficiency with the public interest has in Tom McCourt s analysis undermined the value of public goods and services In addition political and cultural discourse is increasingly beset by fragmentation Public radio provides an exemplary site to examine the prospects and problems of contemporary public life Beginning with a description of the events that led to the creation of National Public Radio McCourt discusses the relationship between NPR and its affiliate stations and the ways in which struggles over funding and programming have affected public radio s agenda He also examines how public radio incorporates the roles of public representatives into its operations and how its methods to determine the needs and interests of the public have changed across the system s history The social political and economic pressures that have impacted the mission and practices of National Public Radio McCourt asserts are manifest in all areas of American life Through extensive historical research he examines whether American public broadcasters as represented by NPR have succeeded or failed to engender an enlightened participatory democracy

Public Service Media in Europe Karen Donders, 2021-06-10 Contributing to a rethink of Public Service Media this book combines theoretical insights and legal frameworks with practice examining theory and policy development in a bottom up manner It explores the practices of Public Service Media across Europe assessing the rules that govern Public Service Media at both the EU and the National Member State level identifying common trends initiated by both the European Commission and individual countries illustrating the context dependent development of Public Service Media and challenging the theories of Public Service Broadcasting which have developed an ideal type public broadcaster based on the well funded BBC in an atypical media market Seeking to further explore the actual practices of Public Service Media and make recommendations for the development of more sustainable policies this book offers case studies of rules and practices from across a variety of EU Member States to consider the extent to which public broadcasters are making the transition to public media organisations and how public broadcasters and governments are shaping Public Service Media together This book is a must read for all scholars who take an interest in Public Service Media media policy and media systems literature at large It will also be of interest to practitioners working in government Public Service Media and commercial media Radio
