Special Bibliography - US Army Military History Research Collection US Army Military History Research Collection,1974 The Union Cavalry Comes of Age Eric J Wittenberg,2018-05-14 An award winning cavalry historian shares a myth busting look at how the Union cavalry surpassed its Confederate counterpart and helped win the Civil War The Army of the Potomac s mounted units suffered early in the Civil War at the hands of the horsemen of the South However by 1863 the Federal cavalry had evolved into a fearsome fighting machine Despite the numerous challenges occupying officers and politicians as well as the harrowing existence of troopers in the field the Northern cavalry helped turn the tide of war much earlier than is generally acknowledged In this expertly researched volume historian Eric J Wittenberg describes how the Union cavalry became the largest best mounted and best equipped force of horse soldiers the world had ever seen The 1863 consolidation of numerous scattered Federal units created a force to be reckoned with a single corps ten thousand strong Wittenberg s research thoroughly debunks the narrative that the Confederate cavaliers were the superior force

as leader of the Second Division Cavalry Corps Army of the Potomac The highlight of his service occurred on July 3 1863 the climactic third day at Gettysburg when he led his own command as well as the brigade of Brig Gen George Armstrong Custer in repulsing an attempt by thousands of Confederate cavalry under the legendary J E B Stuart in attacking the right flank and rear of the Union Army while Pickett s charge struck its front and center Historians credit Gregg with helping preserve the security of his army at a critical point making Union victory inevitable Unlike glory hunters such as Custer and Stuart Gregg was a quietly competent veteran who never promoted himself or sought personal recognition for his service Rarely has a military commander of such distinction been denied a biographer s tribute Gregg s time is long overdue
