Revitalising Deprived Urban Neighbourhoods Colin C. Williams,Jan Windebank,2017-03-02 Governments in Western Europe and North America have placed job creation initiatives at the heart of their policy for revitalizing deprived neighbourhoods However relying on this alone is problematic and these governments are becoming increasingly interested in finding ways of enabling communities to help themselves Drawing upon original in depth studies of self help activities in both deprived and affluent neighbourhoods in UK cities this book examines why the populations of deprived neighbourhoods are more likely to be excluded not only from the labour market but also from adopting self help practices in response to their situation It also identifies the barriers which discourage participation in self help projects A combination of policies are advocated bringing together innovative bottom up initiatives such as LETS time currencies and Employee Mutuals with top down policies such as Active Citizens Credits This book instead suggests a fresh and positive approach towards revitalizing deprived neighbourhoods based on seeking the full engagement rather than merely the full employment of deprived populations
