To Be a Jew Avi Sagi, 2011-03-17 To Be a Jew deals with the question of the meaning and rationale that the writer Joseph Chayim Brenner attributes to Jewish existence Many of Brenner s readers assumed that Brenner completely negated Jewish existence and sought to form a new way of life completely disconnected from the traditional Jewish existence In contrast to this perception Avi Sagi proves that not only did Brenner not reject the value of the Jewish existence but the core of his creation was written out of a deep Jewish commitment Brenner's greatest innovation is found in his new conception of Jewish existence To be a Jew according to Brenner involves the willingness to discover solidarity with actual Jews to participate in a society in which Jews can live a free life and to fashion their culture as they wish Sagi presents the idea that Brenner's is not a Utopian but a realistic conception of Jewish existence Thus this unique conception of Jewish existence is founded on an infrastructure of existential thought

Understanding Loss Judith Murray, 2015-09-16 Loss and consequent grief permeates nearly every life changing event from death to health concerns to dislocation to relationship breakdown to betrayal to natural disaster to faith issues Yet while we know about particular events of loss independently we know very little about a psychology of loss that draws many adversities together This universal experience of loss as a concept in its own right sheds light on so much of the work we do in the care of others This book develops a new overarching framework to understand loss and grief taking into account both pathological and wellbeing approaches to the subject Drawing on international and cross disciplinary research Judith Murray highlights nine common themes of loss helping us to understand how it is experienced These themes are then used to develop a practice framework for structuring assessment and intervention systematically Throughout the book this generic approach is highlighted through discussing its use in different loss events such as bereavement trauma chronic illness and with children or older people Having been used in areas as diverse as child protection palliative care and refugee care the framework can be tailored to a range of needs and levels of care Caring for people experiencing loss is an integral part of the work of helping professions whether it is explicitly part of their work such as in counselling or implicit as in social work nursing teaching medicine and community work This text is an important guide for anyone working in these areas

It's OK to Be Sad Margaret Collins, 2005-09-14 Using stories about life events Margaret Collins focuses on the needs of 4-9 year olds and the ways in which they can express concerns anxieties and grief She also provides helpful advice for children and adults about how to help others when they are experiencing such difficulties

SENCO Update When a child faces a problem with health or disability we are quick to offer support or change our expectations Sadness distress anxiety whether transient or long term can have significant effects on every child but they are invisible and the support or adjustments might not be in place In this great resource Margaret uses stories about 20 different life events to illustrate the range of feelings give permission for the expression of feelings encourage empathy towards others demonstrate that loss is a common experience for us all The work balances an acknowledgement of the need to express sorrow and sadness with an opportunity to consider how to do something that is positive for oneself or helpful to others Margaret Collins is a former headteacher of an infant and first school She is now Visiting Fellow in the School of Education at the University of Southampton She researches children's perceptions of health education topics writes and co writes teaching materials for children books and articles on personal social health and citizenship education PSHCE

Death, Dying and Bereavement Cecilia Lai Wan Chan, Amy Yin Man Chow, 2006-01-01 Fear marks the boundary between the known and the unknown Some Chinese people believe that talking about death will increase the likelihood of occurrence Also by talking about death evil spirits will be attracted to haunt people In facing death individual response is inevitably moulded by the values attitudes and beliefs of one s culture Despite the large Chinese emigrant population in major cities in the world available material in English on death dying and bereavement among Chinese people is scarce As Hong Kong is a place where East meets West most professionals working in the field of death dying and bereavement adapt knowledge from the West to their practice with the Chinese population The intention of this volume is to consolidate and disseminate valuable practical wisdom with professionals in the local and international communities who serve Chinese patients and their family members Both Editors are from the Department of Social Work and Social Administration University of Hong Kong Professor Cecilia Lai Wan Chan has done extensive research in psychosocial oncology behavioral health grief loss and bereavement Amy Yin Man Chow an Honorary Clinical Associate in the department is a registered social worker specialized in bereavement counselling

Handbook of Stress, Trauma, and the Family Don. R. Catherall, 2013-01-11 The Handbook of Stress Trauma and the Family is broken down into three sections compiling research theory and practice The first section focuses on how traumatic stress affects intimate others what familial characteristics affect individual susceptibility to trauma as well as evaluation of the effectiveness of various interventions The section on theory explores concepts of stress and intrapsychic processes underlying the intergenerational transmission of trauma addresses how families can buffer or enhance anxiety The final section entitled practice covers assessment presenting both the Circumplex Model and Bowenian family theory models treatment models and treatment formats for specific populations The major family treatment models applicable to stress and trauma are discussed including contextual object relations emotionally focused and critical interaction therapy

Making a Go of It Jacqueline Burgoyne, David Clark, 2023-07-05 Originally published in 1984 Making a Go of It presents findings from a study of remarried couples in Sheffield between 1976 and 1979 Including case studies from the families involved it also discusses marriage as a social institution and some of the main theoretical and methodological issues which bear upon the study of family and domestic life

It was hoped that the book would be interesting and accessible to remarried couples themselves as well as to members of those occupations who have a professional interest in families of all kinds Still a useful resource today it can be read and enjoyed in its historical context

Breakdown Bereavement: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have captivated audiences this year. Breakdown Bereavement : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Breakdown Bereavement : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Pappen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
