

A photograph of a Wedge-tailed Eagle in flight over a dry, open landscape. The eagle is shown from a side-on perspective, with its wings fully extended. The upper wings are dark brown with lighter, barred patterns on the underside. The body is a mix of light tan and white, with a prominent white patch on the neck. The tail is a dark, wedge-shaped. The eagle's talons are visible, extended forward. The background is a vast, flat, dry landscape with sparse, low-lying vegetation in shades of brown and green. The sky is a clear, pale blue.
