Author Fictions Ingo Berensmeyer, 2023-10-04 Fictional novelists and other author characters have been a staple of novels and stories from the early nineteenth century onwards What is it that attracts authors to representing their own kind in fiction Author Fictions addresses this question from a theoretical and historical perspective Narrative representations of literary authorship not only reflect the aesthetic convictions and social conditions of their actual authors or their time they also take an active part in negotiating and shaping these conditions The book unfolds the history of such author fictions in European and North American texts since the early nineteenth century as a literary history of literary authorship ranging from the Victorian bildungsroman to contemporary autofiction It combines rhetorical and sociological approaches to answer the question how literature makes authors Identifying author fictions as narratives that address the fragile material conditions of literary creation in the actual and symbolic economies of production Ingo Berensmeyer explores how these texts elaborate and manipulate concepts and models of authorship This book will be relevant to English American and comparative literary studies and to anyone interested in the topic of literary authorship

Media Authorship Cynthia Chris, David A. Gerstner, 2013-02-15 Contemporary media authorship is frequently collaborative participatory non site specific or quite simply goes unrecognized In this volume media and film scholars explore the theoretical debates around authorship intention and identity within the rapidly transforming and globalized culture industry of new media Defining media broadly across a range of creative artifacts and production cultures from visual arts to videogames from textiles to television contributors consider authoring practices of artists designers do it yourselfers media professionals scholars and others Specifically they ask What constitutes media and authorship in a technologically converged globally conglomerated multiplatform environment for the production and distribution of content What can we learn from cinematic and literary models of authorship and critiques of those models with regard to authorship not only in television and recorded music but also interactive media such as videogames and the Internet How do we conceive of authorship through practices in which users generate content collaboratively or via appropriation What institutional prerogatives and legal debates around intellectual property rights fair use and copyright bear on concepts of authorship in new media By addressing these issues Media Authorship demonstrates that the concept of authorship as formulated in literary and film studies is reinvigorated contested remade even reauthored by new practices in the digital media environment

Authorship in Comics Journalism Laura Schlichting, 2021-08-09 What is Comics Journalism and Why is the author not dead at all Because literature and journalism deal differently with authorship and author this work renegotiates these concepts It analyzes the author's importance in comics journalism especially concerning the verification and authentication of the production process This study gives a broad and extensive overview of the various forms of contemporary comics journalism and argues that authorship in comics journalism can only be adequately understood by considering the author both on the textual and extratextual level By combining comics analyses with cultural sociological and literary studies approaches this study introduces the comics journalistic pact which is an invisible agreement between author and reader addressing issues of narration voice testimony face and journalistic engagement hands It categorizes comics journalism as a borderline genre between literature culture art and journalism due to its interdisciplinary nature

Star Authors Joe Moran, 2000-02-20 In America authors are as likely to be seen on television talk shows or magazine covers as in the more traditional settings of literary festivals or book signings Is this literary celebrity just another result of dumbing down Yet another example of the mass media turning everything into entertainment Or is it a much more unstable complex phenomenon And what does the American experience tell us about the future of British literary celebrity In Star Authors Joe Moran shows how publishers the media and authors themselves create and disseminate literary celebrity He looks at such famous contemporary authors as Toni Morrison J D Salinger Thomas Pynchon Don DeLillo John Updike Philip Roth Kathy Acker Nicholson Baker Paul Auster and Jay McInerney Through an examination of their own work biographical information media representations and promotional material Moran illustrates the nature of modern literary celebrity He argues that authors actively negotiate their own celebrity rather than simply having it imposed upon them from reclusive authors such as Salinger and Pynchon famed for their very lack of public engagement to media friendly authors such as Updike and McInerney Star Authors analyses literary celebrity in the context of the historical links between literature advertising and publicity in America the economics of literary production and the cultural capital involved in the marketing and consumption of books and authors

Scalability Issues in Authorship Attribution Kim Luyckx, 2011-08 Provides an in depth and systematic study of the so called scalability issues in authorship attribution the task that aims to identify the author of a text given a model of authorial style based on texts of known authorship Computational authorship attribution does not rely on in depth reading but rather automates the process This book investigates the behavior of a text categorization approach to the task when confronted with scalability issues By addressing the issues of experimental design data size and author set size the dissertation demonstrates whether the approach taken is valid in experiments with limited or sufficient data and with small or large sets of authors

Authorship Contested Amy E. Robillard, Ron Fortune, 2015-06-12 This volume explores a dimension of authorship not given its due in the critical discourse to this point authorship contested Much of the existing critical literature begins with a text and the proposition that the text has an author The debates move from here to questions about who the author is whether or not the author's identity is even relevant and what relationship she or he does and does not have to the text The authors contributing to this collection however ask about circumstances surrounding efforts to prevent authors from even being allowed to have these questions asked of them from even being identified as authors They ask about the political cultural economic and social circumstances that motivate a prospective audience to resist an author's efforts to have a text published read and discussed Particularly noteworthy is the range of everyday rhetorical situations in which contesting authorship occurs from the production of a corporate document to the publication of fan fiction Each chapter also focuses on particular instances in which authorship has been contested demonstrating how theories about various forms of contested authorship play out in a range of events from the complex issues surrounding peer review to authorship in the age of intelligent machines The Author in Middle Byzantine Literature Aglae Pizzone, 2014-10-24 Author and authorship have become increasingly important concepts in Byzantine literary studies This volume provides the first comprehensive survey on strategies of authorship in Middle Byzantine literature and investigates the interaction between self presentation and cultural production in a wide array of genres providing new insights into how Byzantine intellectuals conceived of their own work and pursuits An Introduction to Book History David Finkelstein, Alistair McCleery, 2006-03-13 This is a comprehensive introduction to books and print culture which examines the move from the spoken word to written texts the book as commodity the power and profile of readers and the future of the book in an electronic age Body Double Lucy Fischer, 2013-01-15 Body Double explores the myriad ways that film artists have represented the creative process In this highly innovative work Lucy Fischer draws on a neglected element of auteur studies to show that filmmakers frequently raise questions about the paradoxes of authorship by portraying the onscreen writer Dealing with such varied topics as the icon of the typewriter the case of the writer director the authoress and the omnipresent infirm author she probes the ways in which films can tell a plausible story while contemplating the conditions and theories of their making By examining many forms of cinema from Hollywood and the international art cinema to the avant garde Fischer considers the gender age and mental or physical health of fictionalized writers the dramatized interaction between artists and their audiences and critics and the formal play of written words and nonverbal images By analyzing such movies as Adaptation Diary of a Country Priest Naked Lunch American Splendor and Irezumi Fischer tracks the parallels between film author and character looking not for the creative figure who stands outside the text but for the one who stands within it as corporeal presence and alter ego Print Cultures Caroline Davis, 2019-07-23 This reader is the most comprehensive selection of key texts on twentieth and twenty first century print culture yet compiled Illuminating the networks and processes that have shaped reading writing and publishing the selected extracts also examine the effect of printed and digital texts on society Featuring a general introduction to contemporary print culture and publishing studies the volume includes 42 influential and innovative pieces of writing arranged around themes such as authorship women and print culture colonial and postcolonial publishing and globalisation Offering a concise survey of critical work this volume is an essential companion for students of literature or publishing with an interest in the history of the book
