Australian Film The Inside Story:

Australian Documentary Trish FitzSimons, Pat Laughren, Dugald Williamson, 2011-01-31 Australian Documentary brings to life over a century of documentary making

Australian Cinema Brian McFarlane, 1988 This book explores the puzzling phenomenon of new veiling practices among lower middle class women in Cairo Egypt Although these women are part of a modernizing middle class they also voluntarily adopt a traditional symbol of female subordination How can this paradox be explained An explanation emerges which reconceptualizes what appears to be reactionary behavior as a new style of political struggle as accommodating protest These women most of them clerical workers in the large government bureaucracy are ambivalent about working outside the home considering it a change which brings new burdens as well as some important benefits At the same time they realize that leaving home and family is creating an intolerable situation of the erosion of their social status and the loss of their traditional identity The new veiling expresses women's protest against this MacLeod argues that the symbolism of the new veiling emerges from this tense subcultural dilemma involving elements of both resistance and acquiescence

Australian National Cinema Tom O'Regan, 2005-08-10 Situates Australian cinema in its historical and cultural perspective offering detailed critiques of key films from 1970 onwards and using them to illustrate the recent theories on the cinema industries

The Australian Film Revival Susan Barber, 2023-01-26 The Australian Film Revival 70s 80s and Beyond explores the matrix of forces artistic cultural economic political governmental and ideological that gave rise to shaped and sustained this remarkable film movement This engaging new study brings fresh perspectives insights and innovative approaches to a variety of films from a diversity of filmmakers Areas of focus include the complex and contentious subjects of masculinity femininity and feminism the maternal as well as the Indigenous road film and the protean Australian gothic During the formative years of the revival Australian films seemed to emerge from out of the blue in terms of global film history with many features including Picnic at Hanging Rock 1975 Caddie 1976 The Last Wave 1977 The Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith 1978 and My Brilliant Career 1979 receiving international distribution and enthusiastic critical acclaim with strong box office results By the time the film revival was in full swing not only did Australian audiences flock to theaters to see homegrown films but the quantity of Australian films on overseas screens was so high that ardent critics declared this outpouring an Australian New Wave The eyes of the world had turned to a compelling and largely unknown culture

The Documentary Film in Australia Ross Lansell, Peter Beilby, 1982

A Who's who of Australian and New Zealand Film Actors Scott Palmer, 1988 Performers are listed alphabetically with year of birth and death a brief character description and list of films in chronological order

New Australian Cinema Brian McFarlane, Geoff Mayer, 1992-06-26 The institutions and products of the Australian film industry have been extensively surveyed yet few analyses consider the sources of the film revival that took place in the 1970s and 1980s This book represents a body of thinking about Australian cinema that asks where the origins of films lie The book begins by tracing the indebtedness of Australian cinema to the classical narrative style of Hollywood film making with its firm grasp of melodrama It continues by comparing the problems faced by the high British cinema of the 1940s and 1950s with those faced by Australia in the 1970s and 1980s in the attempts by both countries to establish national film industries New Australian Cinema will increase the scope of the discussion about the revival of Australian cinema and help us to make cultural sense of the films themselves The Enemy in Contemporary Film

Danks, Stephen Gaunson, Peter C. Kunze, 2018-01-29 This edited collection assesses the complex historical and contemporary relationships between US and Australian cinema by tapping directly into discussions of national cinema transnationalism and global Hollywood While most equivalent studies aim to define national cinema as independent from or in competition with Hollywood this collection explores a more porous set of relationships through the varied production distribution and exhibition associations between Australia and the US To explore this idea the book investigates the influence that Australia has had on US cinema through the exportation of its stars directors and other production personnel to Hollywood while also charting the sustained influence of US cinema on Australia over the last hundred years It takes two key points in time the 1920s and 1930s and the last twenty years to explore how particular patterns of localism nationalism colonialism transnationalism and globalisation have shaped its course over the last century The contributors re-examine the concept and definition of Australian cinema in regard to a range of local international and global practices and trends that blur neat categorisations of national cinema Although this concentration on US production or influence is particularly acute in relation to developments such as the opening of international film studios in Melbourne Sydney Adelaide and the Gold Coast over the last thirty years the book also examines a range of Hollywood financed and or conceived films shot in Australia since the 1920s Frank Hurley: A Photographer's Life Alasdair McGregor, 2019-02-01 Photographer filmmaker writer adventurer Controversial passionate audacious Frank Hurley was an extraordinary Australian possibly most famous for his Antarctic photographs captured alongside expeditioners Sir Douglas Mawson and Sir Ernest Shackleton From the early twentieth century until his death in 1962 Hurley created a stunning visual archive that chronicled the major events of the twentieth century and Australia's achievements both home and overseas This book and the Hurley Collection in the National Library of Australia make clear this outstanding contribution and the lengths to which the man would go in order to convey the gravity of events For Hurley image making and exploration went hand in hand and he sought out experiences as a pioneer documentary film maker official photographer in two world wars early aviator and adventure and story seeker in both the natural environment and in rapidly disappearing non western worlds In this readable definitive and wonderfully illustrated re issued biography Alasdair McGregor describes Hurley's life and character in all its richness
