The Autobiography of God William Harwood,2006 Is God an extraterrestrial a product of the human imagination or a dispenser of moral philosophy Pan Yahweh and Hughie offer incompatible answers The Undisputed Autobiography of God Devon Morgan,2009 This book is described as the first non religious book about God This non religious book challenges popular perceptions about the Source of Life which humans have called God Many religious books have been written purporting to be God s word but they have all been disputed regarding their authenticity As a result we have many religions with their own books that teach names and things that contradict each other These contradictions are diversions which keep us from developing our true potential as spiritual beings and lock us into experiencing life in a limited way The one thing that is not disputed is the fact that we did not make ourselves the earth or the universe Some have sought to explain our reality through the theory of evolution intelligent design or God functioning like the ultimate magician who willed us and the universe into existence However the most important issue regardless of the theories of our existence is that there is a force greater than humanity What we name this force can change our perception of how we think it functions We can call it God big bang evolution or whatever we like This will not change the fact that there is a force greater than humanity The main thrust of this book is to examine the physical and non physical evidence of our reality that we did not create If we had no religious books how would we interpret the purpose of our existence This book is about such an interpretation It was written for those who are dissatisfied with the conventional explanations regarding many life issues and the source and purpose of our existence God-the Ultimate Autobiography Jeremy Pascall,1988 Copyright 1988 Reed Business Information Inc
