Abortion Policies Naciones Unidas, Departamento de Asuntos Económicos y Sociales ESA., 2001 Abortion Policies: Oman to Zimbabwe United Nations. Department of Economic and Social Development, United Nations. Department for Economic and Social Information and Policy Analysis. Population Division, 1992 Women's Roles and Statuses the World Over Stephanie Hepburn, Rita J. Simon, 2006-04-13 Women's Roles and Statuses the World Over stands alone in the unique contribution it makes to the field of women's rights Based solely on statistics and empirical data as opposed to opinion authors Stephanie Hepburn and Rita Simon have crafted an important contribution to the study of women in society by comparing women's position in society within 26 nations throughout the world This distinctive work addresses the status of women in the areas of education work force marriage and divorce the Constitution abortion and contraceptives public office military service and health care The countries selected reflect a representative pool of the world's cultures religions traditions races laws and politics Hepburn and Simon present the weaknesses strengths and progress or digression of each of the selected nations painting a clear picture of how much more progress must occur in order to set men and women on equal footing Women's Roles and Statuses the World Over is intended to serve scholars and general audiences alike as a handbook providing empirical data and comprehensive references on the social issues problems and practices that affect women today Death before Birth Robert Woods, 2009-08-27 Considering its importance the history of fetal health and mortality remains a neglected area Medical historians have tended to focus on maternal mortality and professional conflicts between midwives rather than on the unborn while among the social scientists demographers and epidemiologists have until recently devoted most of their attention to infants and children Death before Birth redresses this imbalance redirecting attention to the fetus A study of fetal health from the seventeenth century to the present day it is the first book to offer an historical perspective on the subject and to combine both medical history and epidemiological and demographic research using long term and comparative perspectives including a strong international comparative element across both Europe and North America The book not only provides an account of how fetal health and the risks facing the unborn miscarriages abortions stillbirths etc have changed it also offers an interpretation of the causes one that focuses on the role of obstetrics and the epidemiology of maternal infections Along the way it pays detailed attention to a host of related themes such as varying cultural practices in the recognition of stillbirths the age pattern of mortality risk between conception and live birth comparative trends in late fetal mortality and their causes fetal mortality and obstetric care during the eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth centuries and the contrasting approaches of the pathologists and social epidemiologists to the causes of fetal death The book concludes with a study of the fetus as patient focusing on issues surrounding the legalization of abortion in many Western countries and the public health challenges of persistently high mortality in less developed countries

Women's Empowerment and Global Health Shari Dworkin, Monica Gandhi, Paige Passano, 2017 What is women's empowerment and how and why does it matter for women's health. Despite the rise of a human rights based approach to women's health and increasing awareness of the synergies between women's health and empowerment, a lack of consensus remains as to how to measure empowerment and successfully intervene in ways that improve health. Women's Empowerment and Global Health provides thirteen detailed multidisciplinary case studies from across the globe and through the course of a woman's life to show how science and advocacy can be creatively merged to enhance the agency and status of women. Accompanying short videos provide background about programs on the ground in India, the United States, Mexico, Nicaragua, Zimbabwe, and South Africa. Women's Empowerment and Global Health explores the promises and limits of programmatic, scientific, and rights based work in real world settings and provides the next generation of researchers and practitioners as well as students in global and public health, sociology, anthropology, women's studies, law, business, and medicine with cutting edge and inspirational examples of programs that point the way toward achieving women's equality and fulfilling the right to health. Regional Comparisons in Comparative Policy Analysis Studies Iris Geva-May, B. Guy Peters, Joselyn Muhleisen, 2020-06-29. Volume Three of the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis contains chapters concerned with Regional Comparisons and Policy Analysis, one of the most prevailing approaches in comparative public policy. Through the prism of inter jurisdiction comparisons of similarities and variations, they address comparisons in specific policy sectors, governance, or institutional constructs, and political regimes. The foci are nevertheless on those comparisons between countries or regions which help to lesson draw by identifying and understanding the variation in policy analysis and policy making that exists within or across regions. One benefit of regional comparisons is that it often allows studies to hold constant many variables ranging from colonial legacy to federal systems or from language to specific traditions and more effectively isolate dependent variables. Regional organizations like the Organization for Economic Co operation and Development, OECD, or European Union are also considered as catalysts for regional policy approaches and harmonization and occupy a major role in this volume. The chapters address a broad and diverse number of countries and geographical areas: Latin America, North America, East Asia, Southeast Asia, Southern Africa, the Baltic states, the Nordic states, Western Europe, Central Europe, Eastern Europe, and Europe as a whole. Regional Comparisons and Policy Analysis will be of great interest to scholars and learners of public policy and social sciences as well as to practitioners considering what can be learned or facilitated through methodologically and theoretically sound approaches. The chapters were originally published as articles in the Journal of Comparative Policy Analysis which in the last two decades has pioneered the development of comparative public policy. The volume is part of a four volume series, the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis, including Theories and Methods, Institutions and Governance, Regional Comparisons and Policy Sectors. Each volume showcases a different new chapter comparing domains of study interrelated with comparative public policy, political science, public administration, governance, and policy design, authored by the JCPA co editors Giliberto Capano, Iris Geva May, Michael

Howlett Leslie A Pal and B Guy Peters Creating a New Consensus on Population Jyoti Shankar Singh, 2013-11-12

Population growth reproductive health and reproductive rights are amongst the most pressing issues facing governments and the international community Since the world's governments agreed for the first time on far reaching and enlightened population policies at the 1994 International Conference on Population and Development ICPD in Cairo a good deal of progress has been made on these issues but major challenges remain This fully updated edition of Creating a New Consensus on Population charts international progress on efforts to address population and development reproductive health reproductive rights religion contraception and the empowerment of women Historical coverage includes the lead up process to the ICPD the conference itself and the global consensus and the ICPD Programme of Action that resulted The book then turns to how population issues have developed over the past decade and a half including follow up and implementation at the international level by the United Nations Population Fund UNFPA and other UN agencies and organizations Key international events are covered including the 1999 ICPD 5 Millennium Summit 2000 ICPD 10 and the 2005 MDG 5 as well as relevant regional events The book also examines the reorientation of policies and programmes and implementation at national levels across the world Crucially it looks at emerging issues and partnerships including the increasing role of NGOs women's groups youth groups foundations public private partnerships and other non state stakeholders Written by Jyoti Shankar Singh former ICPD Executive Coordinator this is the definitive account of how the international community has engaged with population issues and policies and it offers insight into both the ongoing challenges as well as how an international consensus can be forged on crucial global issues It is essential reading for all those involved in population health and development issues and policies world wide

Women's Reproductive Mental Health in South Asia Prerna Kukreti, Sujita Kumar Kar, S. M. Yasir Arafat, 2025-10-24 This book will be the first of its kind discussing reproductive psychiatry in South Asia Reproductive psychiatry encompasses mental health issues surrounding reproductive transitions in different stages of a woman's life It includes mental and behavioral problems surrounding menstrual cycle pre menstrual and post menopausal disorders stress during pregnancy mental disorders during pregnancy and postpartum period infertility loss of pregnancy sexual health mother infant attachment issues and infant mental health It is an important but neglected domain in low and middle income countries LMICs especially in South Asian countries and has wide implications on maternal health child development family dimensions and social contribution It is a cross disciplinary segment between obstetricians and psychiatrists demanding a strong liaison Little is known about the burden and mental health services available for this special population in South Asia

Lives in the Balance , 2021-12-06 We find ourselves in a world that reflects a tension between the totalizing discourses of global corporate capitalism and representative democracy on the one hand and the contingent fragmentary nature of post colonial life on the other How indeed whether this dialectic will be reconciled in the new millennium is not merely a question for academic consideration but has real implications for the lives of people in the developing world who are caught at the interstices of these conflicting forces What a comparative critical sociological perspective can provide is a window into the souls of people struggling for self determination equality and justice It is in this spirit that we present this work focusing on the study of injustice and inequality in the world system Diversity in Family Formation Joop de Beer,F.

Deven,2013-03-09 The aim of Diversity in Family Formation is to examine changes in the start of the family formation process Rather than giving a rough overview of demographic changes in many countries a comparison of differences in changes in family formation and fertility behaviour between Belgium and The Netherlands is interesting for various reasons First even though the economic and cultural differences between these countries are relatively small there is one important difference Belgium is predominantly Catholic whereas The Netherlands has about equal proportions of Catholics and Protestants Second if the Second Demographic Transition implies that there is one common pattern of change in different European countries and that differences across countries are due to the fact that countries are in a different stage of the transition process and if it is assumed that the transition process started earlier in Protestant countries than in Catholic countries one would expect The Netherlands to be in a further stage of the transition process than Belgium Thus an in depth comparison of changes in family formation and fertility behaviour between both countries may give us more insight in the question of whether there is one common transition process The comparison of fertility and family survey data in both countries brings us to the core question of whether there is one common explanation for differences between countries in various types of fertility and family behaviour under consideration namely fertility regulation the choice of living arrangement after leaving the parental home and the labour force participation of mothers
