Burden Of Representation:

The Burden of Representation John Tagg, 1993 Photographs are used as documents evidence and records every day in courtrooms hospitals and police work on passports permits and licenses But how did such usages come to be established and accepted and when What kinds of photographs were seen as purely instrumental and able to function in this way What sorts of agencies and institutions had the power to give them this status And more generally what conception of photographic representation did this involve and what were its consequences Unthinking Eurocentrism Ella Shohat, Robert Stam, 1994

The authors correct eurocentric criticism from media studies in the past by examining Hollywood movie genres such as the western and the musical from a multicultural perspective (Mis)representing Islam John E. Richardson, 2004 Explores how lite broadsheet newspapers are implicated in the production and reproduction of anti Muslim racism in Britain

Celluloid Comrades Song Hwee Lim, 2006-08-31 Without question Song Hwee Lim has presented us with an exemplar of quality scholarship in the study of contemporary Chinese cinemas By combining an impressive command of Chinese and Western literary as well as film source materials with a sophisticated mode of analysis and an unassuming argumentative style he has authored an exhilarating book one that not only treats cinematic representations of male homosexuality with great sensitivity but also demonstrates what it means to read with critical intelligence and vision Rey Chow Andrew W Mellon Professor of the Humanities Brown University Celluloid Comrades is a timely demonstration of the importance of queer studies in the field of transnational Chinese cinemas Lim dissects gay sexuality in selective Chinese language films and vigorously contests commonly accepted critical paradigms and theoretical models Readers will find a provocative powerful voice in this new book Sheldon H Lu Professor of Comparative Literature University of California at Davis Celluloid Comrades offers a cogent analytical introduction to the representation of male homosexuality in Chinese cinemas within the last decade It posits that representations of male homosexuality in Chinese film have been polyphonic and multifarious posing a challenge to monolithic and essentialized constructions of both Chineseness and homosexuality Given the artistic achievement and popularity of the films discussed here the position of celluloid comrades can no longer be ignored within both transnational Chinese and global queer cinemas The book also challenges readers to reconceptualize these works in relation to global issues such as homosexuality and gay and lesbian politics and their interaction with local conditions agents and audiences Tracing the engendering conditions within the film industries of China Taiwan and Hong Kong Song Hwee Lim argues that the emergence of Chinese cinemas in the international scene since the 1980s created a public sphere in which representations of marginal sexualities could flourish in its interstices Examining the politics of representation in the age of multiculturalism through debates about the films Lim calls for a rethinking of the limits and hegemony of gay liberationist discourse prevalent in current scholarship and film criticism He provides in depth analyses of key films and auteurs reading them within contexts as varied as premodern transgender practice in Chinese theater to postmodern diasporic forms of sexualities Informed by cultural and postcolonial studies and critical theory this acutely observed and theoretically sophisticated work will be of interest to a wide range of scholars and students as well as general readers looking for a deeper understanding of contemporary Chinese cultural politics cinematic representations and queer culture Women

Multi-ethnic Britain 2000+ Lars Eckstein, 2008 Multi Ethnic Britain 2000 provides an encompassing survey of artistic responses to the changes in the British cultural climate in the early years of the 21st century It traces topical reactions to new forms of racism and religious fundamentalism to legal as well as illegal immigration and to the threat of global terror yet it also highlights new forms of intercultural communication and convivial exchange Framed by contributions from novelists Patrick Neate and Rajeev Balasubramanyam Multi Ethnic Britain 2000 showcases how artistic representations in literature film music and the visual arts reflect and respond to social and political discourses and how they contribute to our understanding of the current trans cultural situation in Britain The contributions in this volume cover a wide range of writers such as Graham Swift Ian McEwan Zadie Smith Jackie Kay Nadeem Aslam Gautam Malkani Nirpal Dhaliwal and Monica Ali films ranging from Gurinder Chadha's Bend It Like Beckham and Bride and Prejudice to Michael Winterbottom's In This World and Alfonso Cuarón's Children of Men paintings and photography by innovative black and Asian British Artists and dubstep music Photography, Vision, and the Production of Modern Bodies Suren Lalvani, 1996-01-01 Lalvani argues that modernity represents the powerful privileging of vision and the introduction of a paradigm of seeing that is historically distinctive Taking the introduction of photography in the nineteenth century as a crucial development in the expansion of modern vision he draws on the writings of Alan Sekula John Tagg Jonathan Crary Norman Bryson and Martin Jay to examine in a comprehensive manner how photography functioned to organize a set of relations between knowledge power and the body However in taking a broad cultural studies approach Lalvani situates the practices of photography within the larger visual order of the nineteenth century He demonstrates how the new lines of visibility formed not only by photography but by new urban spaces and new modes of transportation resulted in a particular organizing of the social order of subjectivity and social relations

Race and the Cultural Industries Anamik Saha, 2018-01-08 Studies of race and media are dominated by textual approaches that explore the politics of representation But there is little understanding of how and why representations of race in the media take the shape that they do How one might ask is race created by cultural industries In this important new book Anamik Saha encourages readers to focus on the production of representations of racial and ethnic minorities in film television music and the arts His interdisciplinary approach combines critical media studies and media industries research with postcolonial studies and critical race perspectives to reveal how political economic forces and legacies of empire shape industrial cultural production and in turn media discourses around race Race and the Cultural Industries is required reading for students and scholars of media and cultural studies as well as anyone interested in why historical representations of the Other persist in the media and how they are to be challenged
