

APOSTROPHE'

The apostrophe (') has two main distinct uses in English.

Used to show possession

The general rule is that the possessive of a singular noun is formed by adding an apostrophe and "s", whether the singular noun ends in "s" or not.

For example:

- Tom's bat (Bat owned by Tom)
- Sarah's doll (Doll owned by Sarah)
- The children's room
- The men's work
- The babies' crying
- A doctor's patient

Used to show contractions of words

You can use contractions to shorten a word by removing one letter or more and substituting an apostrophe in the same spot.

For example:

- | | |
|------------------------|---------------------|
| • are not = aren't | • he is = he's |
| • can not = can't | • is not = isn't |
| • could not = couldn't | • it is = it's |
| • do not = don't | • I am = I'm |
| • does not = doesn't | • I will = I'll |
| • did not = didn't | • I would = I'd |
| • he will = he'll | • I have = I've |
| • he would = he'd | • She will = She'll |
