Henry James. An Alien's "History" of America Martha Banta, 2016 Martha Banta's Henry James An Alien's History of America is the product of a lifetime of thinking about James and his odd but oddly productive relation to the land of his birth. A biography of an autobiography it serves as a peripatetic history of the central cross currents and intersections between Europe and America memory and history romance and realism. These diverse elements structure James's channeling of his own experience as a displaced or alienated American into a variety of genres memoirs and travel writing novels and tales letters and literary criticism social and cultural commentary. Together they constitute the never completed novel of his ongoing autobiographical project. In its masterful weaving together of materials text and time frames Henry James An Alien's History of America moves fluidly back and forth over the intricate tapestry of James's life and texts. It identifies and analyzes key moments words and tropes that echo across the years tracing the instances of repetition reversal self revelation and revision that underwrite this life record. This study represents a major advance over conventional sometimes oversimplified readings of James's international theme. His attitudes about both Europe and America emerge here in their full complexity and contradictoriness. The breadth and depth of Banta's knowledge of James and of the historical America from which he emerged and which he never ceased to engage however ambivalently will make this a rich reading experience for general readers as well as scholars.
